City Pleases New Firm

170 Welcome Anchor Hocking At C. Of C. Dinner

"We're glad to be a part of the community," Gerhardt Miller, vice president of the Anchor Hocking Glass Co., told some 170 members and guests at the East Liverpool Area Chamber of Commerce dinner Monday night at the Country Club.

Tribute to other area industries and the role they play in the economy and growth of the East Liverpool district was paid at the annual spring meeting on the theme, "Salute to Home Town Industry."

MILLER spoke of Anchor Hocking's new glass cookware processing being installed at the Hall China Co. in the East End, and expressed appreciation for the firm's welcome to East Liverpool.

"I am sincere in saying we could not have come to a more co-operative community," he declared.

Miller was introduced by Everson Hall, vice president of Hall, who also introduced three other Anchor Hocking aides —

N. J. Ogilvie, vice president for manufacturing; N. W. Severin, manager of cookware processing, and R. C. Skidmore, manager of Labor relations.

A formal welcome to Anchor Hocking was made by Alvin Babb, president of the Community Improvement Corp. "We wish you the very best success, and we give sincere thanks to Hall for bringing us a new industry."

BABB lauded what he called a recent improvement in the city in trying to encourage industry, and said, "Our primary goal is to assist local industry."

He recalled a statement which he said he believed applied in every aspect — "Industry will continue to go where invited, and remain where appreciated."

Among representatives of area industry who spoke about their firms and outlook were John Bryer, president of Acme Craftware of Wellsville; Delmar O'Hara, president of the W. C. Bunting Co.; Glenn Roberts of Crucible Steel Co. at Midland;

J. M. Wells, board chairman of the Homer Laughlin China Co.; Charles Taylor, president of National Church Supply Co.; Richard Witherow, sales manager of Patterson Division, Patterson Industries; T. H. Kashuba, president of T. K. Roofing Co. and Harry Bell, general manager of Waterford Park race track.

ROBERT E. Boyce, Chamber president, introduced the guests and speakers. A number of the firms had displays of products in one area of the club.

Miller spoke of Anchor Hocking's operations, based at Lancaster, with 1,300 employees in 18 plants in the nation and 82 sales offices. He said the firm produces tableware, kitchenware, ovenware and industrial products such as sealed beam headlights.

"We are excited about the new cookware, because it was developed by our own research and development group. Our competition's product was par-

100 Apartments Planned

IBOP Pledges $50,000 For Retirement Housing

The Executive Board of the International Brotherhood of Operative Potters has allotted a maximum of $50,000 to provide retirement housing in East Liverpool.

E. L. Wheatley, president, and C. Frank Dales, vice president, will comprise the IBOP committee to work with Four Freedoms, Inc., a national non-profit organization to establish and operate retirement housing projects. Wheatley is a member of the Four Freedoms' board.

The action was taken at a recent Executive Board meeting in Cincinnati when details were outlined by Harry Stone, vice president of Four Freedoms.

At present, plans call for the IBOP to provide the initial financing and empower Four Freedoms to supervise the project.

The proposal calls for a 100-unit apartment building with about 80 per cent being efficiency apartments. Carpeting, drapes, stoves and refrigerators would be furnished with tenants providing other major furnishings.

The apartments would be all-electric and air conditioned. Central heat would be provided and clothes washers and dryers would be installed on each floor. Efficiency apartments would rent from $60 to $65 monthly, depending on final construction costs.

Stone estimated the cost of the project would be about $10,000 per unit including the cost of land.

Stone told the Executive Board the first step would be a market survey to determine if the project is needed and desired. Four Freedoms already has an existing market survey that will be made available to the IBOP, he said.

A non-profit corporation would be set up and an initial investment of $10,000 in "seed money" would be sufficient to get under way, Stone said. If construction does not begin, the $10,000 would be returned.

The second step would be to determine if approximately six acres of land is available. If conditions are adhered to, such

Bees Buzz Business

District Intersection

A "cloud" of bees picked one of the city's busiest intersections for a place to swarm this morning, much to the consternation of shoppers and a couple of business places.

The swarm of several hundred bees buzzed around the entrances to Robins & Sant at 5th and Market Sts. and the adjoining Book & Bible House. Some of the girls of the Ohio Valley Business College were late for lunch as they were reluctant to leave the building through the flying insects. The swarm finally gathered thickly at the top of a utility pole.

Wallace Bid Eyed Today In Maryland

BALTIMORE, Md. (AP)—The issue of civil rights, intensified by Gov. George C. Wallace's campaign, was expected to produce a heavy vote in Maryland's Democratic presidential preference primary today.

There was some whispering among Democratic leaders that the Alabama governor might win, but Wallace's opponent, Sen. Daniel B. Brewster, said "our side will win."

Brewster filed as a favorite son in an effort to make sure that Maryland's 48 votes in the national nominating convention go to President Johnson. The delegation will be committed to the primary winner for at least one ballot.

State Democratic Chairman Harry Gross conceded Wallace 25 to 30 per cent of the vote, but insisted the governor doesn't have a chance of winning.

Running against Gov. John W. Reynolds last month in Wisconsin, Wallace pulled 33.7 per cent of the Democratic vote. Earlier this month, he got 29.8 per cent in Indiana's primary against Gov. Matthew E. Welsh. Reynolds and Welsh, like Brewster, were favorite sons pledged to Johnson.

Democrats in Wisconsin and Indiana claimed Wallace was helped by Republicans who switched to the Democratic primary in an attempt to embarrass Johnson.

There'll be no cross-over voting in Maryland. Voters are restricted to the primary of their party.

Both Parties Caucus On Civil Rights

Amendments May Be Vital Key To Bill's Enactment

WASHINGTON (AP)—Democratic and Republican senators caucus separately today on a package of amendments that may hold the key to enactment of the civil rights bill.

No final decisions are expected, but leaders believe they'll leave the sessions with a pretty good idea of which of the 70 changes are acceptable.

The Republican leader, Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois, said he thinks additional GOP sessions may be necessary.

The assistant Democratic leader, Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota, told reporters he hopes one session will be enough for his side. But Humphrey said individual conferences with undecided Democrats will be going on for some time.

The amendments are designed to win over some of the senators who are lukewarm or cool to the House-passed bill. If they can be satisfied, the reasoning goes, they will support a move to silence the Southern talkathon that has carried the bill to 59 days of debate.

Dirksen and Humphrey insist that the proposed amendments would not weaken the bill.

Humphrey said some Democrats told him the amendments go too far. A number of Republicans have complained that the changes do not go far enough to meet their objections.

The amendments originated with Dirksen but were altered considerably in meetings with Humphrey, Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy and others.

The two sections chiefly affected are public accommodations and equal employment opportunity.

The amendments would remove the government's power to file antidiscrimination suits in individual cases, an authority contained in the bill as it came from the House.

They would leave the attorney general the right to go directly into court if he found a pattern of discrimination. Aggrieved individuals would have to file their own suits.

The amendments would give states which have public accommodations and equal employment laws specified periods to handle complaints before federal power could be invoked.

The amendments also contain explicit language banning any federal court orders to bus school children from one district to another in an effort to remove racial imbalances.

City To Replace Walk As Example To Others

The administration felt it could not ask owners of private property to replace or repair damaged sidewalks when some of the walks on municipally-owned property needed the same sort of attention.

That's why street department crews today are tearing up the W. 6th St. sidewalk adjacent to City Hall. It also forms the driveway to the entrance of the city-owned metered parking lot alongside the municipal building. The walk in front of City Hall proper was replaced a year ago.

Safety-Service Director Robert E. Vodrey said the administration has asked several business district property owners to replace or repair sidewalks and the administration felt the city should set a "good example" for others.

Command Post Lost Laos General Digs In For New Attack By Pro-Red Forces

Neutralist Leader Sets Up New Post

Refugees, Wounded Airlifted By U.S. Planes To Vientiane

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP)—Neutralist Gen. Kong Le dug in today to await a new onslaught by pro-Communist Pathet Lao, who forced him from his command post east of the Plaine des Jarres.

The neutralist commander and his force set up headquarters at Ban Khong, several miles southwest of his former headquarters.

Britain Makes Plea To Soviet, Red China

LONDON (AP)—The British government announced today it is seeking Soviet and Red Chinese cooperation to halt attacks by Communist-led Pathet Lao forces in the kingdom of Laos.

A Foreign Office spokesman, reading a prepared statement to newsmen, said:

"We have followed with serious concern developments in Laos resulting from the continued attacks by the Pathet Lao."

"Her Majesty's ambassador in Moscow has already been in touch with the Soviet government and we shall be discussing the matter further both with the Soviet government and the Chinese government. We also, of course, are in close touch with the United States and other interested governments."

at Muong Phan. The latter was overrun by Pathet Lao Monday after a two-day mortar and artillery bombardment.

Western military observers who flew to Ban Khong said Kong Le's troops had staged "an orderly withdrawal" to the hilltop village. They said it appeared more defensible by infantry than Muong Phan.

Chartered American planes airlifted refugees and wounded to Vientiane, 110 miles southwest of the Plaine des Jarres, and flew in medical supplies as Kong Le prepared for a new Red attack.

Ban Khong remained quiet but the rumble of shell fire could be heard in the distance. Western observers said the Pathet Lao and their Viet Minh allies from North Viet Nam were consolidating their position at Muong Phan.

Western military men who visited the scene said they had no idea how big a force faced Kong Le or how many neutralist troops were massed at Ban Khong.

Earlier estimates had said 7,000 neutralist troops were strung out on a 22-mile semicircle of high ground running north and south along the eastern fringe of the strategic plain. It was believed they were outnumbered about 4 to 1 by the Reds.

With the fall of Muong Phan and nearby Phou Kheng Hill and Kong Le's retreat southward, it appeared that his neutralist force had been split.

Kong Le admitted that some of his troops had gone over to the Pathet Lao, but he denied Communist claims of mass defections.

The Pathet Lao already control two-thirds of Laos' 90,000 square miles of mountainous jungle and flatland. Apparently they want complete control of the plain to increase their hold on northern Laos. Major communications trails pass across it.

Wooing In California Rockefeller-Lodge Alliance Gathers Momentum

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Rockefeller campaign leaders wooed supporters of other Republican "moderates" today to join the Lodge camp in backing Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller in California's presidential primary.

They followed up quickly after leaders of the drive to draft Henry Cabot Lodge for the Republican presidential nomination urged his followers to vote for the New York governor in the June 2 primary.

The Rockefeller-Lodge alliance didn't surprise anyone, least of all Sen. Barry Goldwater, in view of Rockefeller's victory in the Oregon primary last week.

Only Rockefeller and Goldwater are competing for California's 86 delegates to the GOP national convention. No write-ins are allowed, and the Lodge people concluded their best bet was to throw in with Rockefeller.

A Foreign Office spokesman, reading a prepared statement to newsmen, said:

"We have followed with serious concern developments in Laos resulting from the continued attacks by the Pathet Lao."

"Her Majesty's ambassador in Moscow has already been in touch with the Soviet government and we shall be discussing the matter further both with the Soviet government and the Chinese government. We also, of course, are in close touch with the United States and other interested governments."

"We are convinced," said a Lodge backer, "that the Rockefeller slate closely parallels the moderate Republican philosophy of Ambassador Lodge."

Rockefeller, in a New York statement before flying out for four days of campaigning here, said he's enthusiastic and optimistic about his chances in California.

Goldwater, winding up a three-day stint in California Monday, said he had been expecting the Lodge forces to get behind his opponent. The Arizona conservative said it was nothing more than a "stop Goldwater movement."

Rockefeller said, "I think the trend already had set in after the Oregon primary, when many of the Lodge people came over. I want to say again I have made no deals, nor will I make any."

Goldwater, who ran third to Rockefeller and Lodge in Oregon, said he saw no visible signs of Lodge strength in California.

Paul Grindle of Boston, national campaign director of the Draft Lodge Committee, said followers of the ambassador to South Viet Nam constitute the largest single bloc of voters in California.

He emphasized that his group is not giving up hope of winning the nomination for Lodge.

Leonard K. Firestone, Rockefeller's Southern California chairman, indirectly invited supporters of other possible Republican contenders to help Rockefeller in his California battle.

He said Lodge "stands within the mainstream of Republican thinking, as do Gov. Rockefeller, Richard M. Nixon, Gov. William W. Scranton of Pennsylvania, Gov. George Romney of Michigan, as well as other party leaders."

Beaver Local Board Votes Budget Cuts

Economics Slated To Obtain $20,000 For Faculty Raises

Cutbacks totaling $20,000 in Beaver Local School District's operating budget were authorized by the Board of Education Monday night when plans for donating coaching salaries were aired.

About 100 attended the meeting of the board, which discussed the need to obtain $20,000 to provide for the recently-approved increased teacher pay schedule.

In order to obtain these funds, the board authorized various cutbacks in board — provided funds, including the major portion of the summer education program, and money for supplies and equipment along with $6,000 in coaching salaries.

The board said the need to reduce operating funds stemmed from rejection of a proposed 5-mill levy in the May 5 election.

It was explained $245,000 was required for the period January through August and $180,000 for the period September through December, a total of $425,000. Under the former pay scale, $405,000 would have been required and had been appropriated.

The new salary scale added $20,000, however. The new schedule, compared to the previous one, follows:

Teachers with two-year training, $3,300 to $3,800 comm.

City Trash Dump Stirs Complaints

A delegation of four women complained to Council Monday night that their families have been disturbed by "stench and flies" from the city's sanitary landfill trash and garbage dump in Bloomfield, but councilmen replied that corrective steps already have been taken.

The complaint was filed by Mrs. Hazel Holmes, Mrs. Erla Reese, Mrs. William Landfried and Mrs. Carl Mays, all of Bloomfield Ave. in St. Clair Township.

COUNCILMAN Floyd Murray replied that all members of Council inspected the dump Saturday.

"I assure you that the refuse will be covered every night," he told the women.

Mrs. Holmes told Council that the dump is separated from her property only by a 50-foot road.

"There is a lot of noise, stench and flies right at my door," she said.

Mrs. Landfried declared that the dump creates an "awful smell." Mrs. Mays said some dead dogs were dumped at the site one day last summer and the carcasses remained uncovered overnight, despite promises to the contrary from the landfill crew.

SAFETY - SERVICE Director Robert E. Vodrey read a letter from Harry Stockdale, sanitarian for the County Health Department, reporting that he inspected the dump Saturday "and found everything in order."

"Now that you women have been here, I'm sure that the incinerator superintendent will see this doesn't happen again," Councilman Robert Sample told the delegation.

"Don't you think that when that site is filled and leveled it will be better looking than it is now?" Councilman William Davis asked. The ground is part of a former strip mine site.

"Yes, but what are you going to do in the meantime?" Mrs. Holmes asked.

President George E. Willshaw asked the women to report to Council again if they feel their complaints have not been corrected.

Murray, reporting for the street committee, said an investigation was made on a request for installation of a guardrail on Dresden Ave. at Trentvale St.

SINCE OUTBOUND Route 30 traffic soon will be routed onto the new Freeway segment, the committee felt the cost of a new guardrail could not be justified, he said. However, if the city has used material available, it might be installed, he said.

Murray said the committee also investigated a request for a new street light on Dresden Ave. "but could see no need for it at the present time." His committee was given a petition with 23 names requesting a new street light on Youngs Alley at Stewart St.

Vodrey read to Council a letter from the Junior Chamber of Commerce volunteering to furnish free labor for a citywide survey to determine which intersections need street signs or replacements for existing signs.

Signed by Frank Potts, secretary, the letter said the Jaycees would make the survey if the city would furnish the money for the markers. Vodrey said the new markers, including signs and standards, cost about $13 each, less installation.

Council asked the finance committee and the director to investigate.

VODREY SAID he has received estimates of $2,750 and $500 for razing an old brick structure at E. 2nd and Union Sts. which the city owns. The $2,750 bid is in writing, but the $500 estimate is verbal, he said. The building has been under a state tear-down order for the last two years, Vodrey reminded.

The director said he will furnish further information on the razing cost when it is available.

He read a letter from the Ohio Power Co. reporting a new street light has been installed at Wedgewood St. and Fayette Alley, complying with a request from Council.

Davis pointed out an accumulation of ashes remains on many East Liverpool streets as an aftermath of the winter. He said he recognizes that the mechanical sweeper cannot work on some streets, but said he feels the pavement should be cleaned.

DAVIS suggested street department workers turn fire hoses on the streets and allow householders to clean the pavement in front of their own properties. The work also would serve as a check on the condition of fire plugs, he said. Willshaw suggested the street committee discuss the plan with Vodrey.

Council filed a letter explaining action taken at a meeting of the reactivated City Traffic Commission Wednesday night. The report was written by David Sakol, the new chairman.

Sakol suggested the city send a delegation to Columbus seeking aid as a result of approval of a $500 million highway bond issue at the primaries May 5. He particularly suggested a plea for help for resurfacing of State Route 267 (Lisbon St.) and construction of a ramp to tie together the two dead-end sections of W. 9th St.

Council referred his suggestion to the street committee "for further investigation."

THE CLAIMS committee was given a $300 bill against the city from Iva Leyda, 630 Wells Ave. Ext., Wellsville, for injuries allegedly suffered May 5 in a fall in Crook Alley just off E. 6th St.

Council received a letter from Shelter-All Corp. of Columbus advising that a "certificate of co-insurance" for a total of $1 million has been issued on each of the five school bus stop shelters which the concern has erected here on a trial basis. The policy covers liability for accidents. Council received and filed the letter.

Willshaw answered an enquiry made at the session May 4 by James Flasco of Idaho Ave. asking if Council ever had confirmed Mayor Merrill D. Hall's appointment of Paul Zehnder to the Health Board. Reading an extract from the minutes, Willshaw said the appointment was confirmed at the meeting Jan. 20.

REPORTING for the claims committee, Councilman Donald Hancock said it has approved one bill against the city and rejected another.

Approved was a $25 claim filed by Charles Appolson of Angola, N. Y., who alleged a tire on his auto was cut Jan. 22 when it struck a piece of metal projecting from the curb as he pulled into a parking place on Market St.

Rejected was a claim of James E. Martin, 665½ Walnut St., who said the paint on his car was chipped March 30 while at 3rd and Market Sts. when hit by ashes from a street department cinder truck. He had filed two estimates on the damage—one for $50.30 and one for $45.30.

The meeting opened with invocation by Sample. Councilman Donald E. Smith was excused.

Mayor Requests Law On Cleaning For Vacant Lots

Mayor Merrill D. Hall Monday night requested Council to enact an ordinance "requiring vacant lots be cleaned and kept cleaned."

Sent to Council in a brief letter, the mayor's request said that "these lots in some cases become hazards, unsanitary and unsightly." He did not explain in detail the provisions recommended for the measure. His proposal was referred to the ordinance committee for investigation.

The city already has an ordinance that requires property owners to remove accumulations of stagnant water and other health hazards from vacant land.

Police Chief Americo Radeschi announced last week he was preparing to enforce the legislation, sending letters to property owners advising them to drain stagnant ponds or face the possibility of prosecution in Municipal Court on a misdemeanor complaint.

Councilmen Donald Hancock and Floyd Murray commended the chief for his action and both pledged their support. Murray said a pond in Columbian Park particularly needs attention.

Rejected was a claim of James E. Martin, 665½ Walnut St., who said the paint on his car was chipped March 30 while at 3rd and Market Sts. when hit by ashes from a street department cinder truck. He had filed two estimates on the damage—one for $50.30 and one for $45.30.

The meeting opened with invocation by Sample. Councilman Donald E. Smith was excused.

Mayor Requests Law On Cleaning For Vacant Lots

Mayor Merrill D. Hall Monday night requested Council to enact an ordinance "requiring vacant lots be cleaned and kept cleaned."

Sent to Council in a brief letter, the mayor's request said that "these lots in some cases become hazards, unsanitary and unsightly." He did not explain in detail the provisions recommended for the measure. His proposal was referred to the ordinance committee for investigation.

The city already has an ordinance that requires property owners to remove accumulations of stagnant water and other health hazards from vacant land.

Police Chief Americo Radeschi announced last week he was preparing to enforce the legislation, sending letters to property owners advising them to drain stagnant ponds or face the possibility of prosecution in Municipal Court on a misdemeanor complaint.

Councilmen Donald Hancock and Floyd Murray commended the chief for his action and both pledged their support. Murray said a pond in Columbian Park particularly needs attention.

tially subsidized by the federal government."

MILLER SAID the glass blank forms are manufactured at the Lancaster plant where the decals are applied and processed in an automatic system. The ware is then shipped to East Liverpool where it is processed to crystallize or become white, and then is packed and returned to Lancaster for packaging.

Boyer commented that East Liverpool in the 19th Century had a glass plant, the Specialty Glass Co., which burned down.

Bryer cited the need for vision for economic growth, and emphasized the role of industry in providing a solid community foundation.

O'Hara described the specialty items of Bunting which supply mugs, ash trays and souvenirs for college and fraternity markets across the nation.

THE ROLE Crucible plays in the district was described by Roberts, superintendent of community relations for the Midland Works, which employs some 6,000. Roberts said the specialty steel operations of Crucible provide an annual district payroll of over $50 million.

The history of the Homer Laughlin firm was traced by Wells, who said the depression of the 1930's and the imports of Japanese ware seriously affected the dinnerware industry. Wells said the present talks at Geneva to revise the tariff schedules may further injure the industry and possibly bring "complete annihilation."

HE SAID only the premium business — providing ware to supermarkets for premiums — has saved the current industry, and that the future is brighter in that direction — "until the Japanese can move into that field."

Wells said there is also the possibility that government leaders will see the results of the tariffs and imports on home industry — including steel and autos — and change the policy. Taylor described the church envelope firm and its local growth. He cited the need for "togetherness among the communities and leaders" for further development.

Witherow discussed Patterson's diversified products and the fact that many people don't realize the extent of the concern's output. He said both Patterson's employment and sales are up.

"WE THINK East Liverpool will grow, and we want to be a part of it," he declared.

The growth of T. K. Roofing from a small 10-worker plant to its present size with over 110 employees was outlined by Kashuba. He also spoke of the sharp competition in the roofing field, and told of the comeback of the firm after a disastrous fire.

"We remain competitive chiefly because of the Ohio River and its transportation benefits," Kashuba said, reporting the firm receives 10 million gallons of asphalt a year.

He said sales are increasing, and the firm is in the process of a $250,000 modernization, replacing old machinery. He spoke of plans about five years ago for providing a paper mill in the firm which would employ 40.

KASHUBA said the paper mill could not be installed because, although some local financing was offered, the Small Business Administration turned the proposal down.

"We have got to do something to support industrial development in the area," he stated.

"I suggest we don't support it through pious sentiment — let's give money. Let's have a kitty ready in case industry does want to come in or expand."

"If there had been capital ready four years ago, we could've put in the paper mill and had 40 more jobs here," he said.

Bell spoke about the race track, saying 492 are employed, apart from the stable workers and jockeys, and the payroll for the first three months has been $254,000.

"WE HAVE let contracts for construction of a new clubhouse which will cost over $1 million by next March, and we are about to award a $225,000 contract for a night racing system," he reported.

Bell said he feels the track is an important part of the economy of the area, and overall, is the equal of any industry around here.

Mike Turk reported on efforts being made to utilize the former Edwin M. Knowles China Co. plant in Newell for industry. He said an industrial realty concern is handling the market promotion of the structure.

projects usually are undertaken with close federal cooperation, he explained.

One of the conditions is that the proposed site be close to public transportation, shopping areas, libraries, theaters and other entertainment sources.

Plans for the project also should include such facilities as arts and crafts shops, a TV room and a small library, he said.

Wheatley said many retired couples have no inclination to move to Florida or California, but prefer to remain in the area where they have spent most of their lives. At the same time, they would like to be free of some household tasks, such as cutting grass and shoveling snow.

Retired couples will spend from $150 to $300 a month and by retiring in East Liverpool the local economy would be improved, he said.

Although the IBOP could sponsor the proposal alone, a local committee will be organized to obtain a broader base of support, Wheatley concluded.

The first silver dollar was minted in 1794. Since then there have been nine different designs.

Charge Fraud, Error

Blatt's Supporters Win Right To Challenge Vote

HARRISBURG — Genevieve Blatt's supporters Monday won the right to challenge the election results in the event Justice Musmanno is certified the winner of the Democratic nomination for the U. S. Senate. Dauphin County Common Pleas Court ruled that the petition filed on behalf of Miss Blatt should be accepted.

Specific claims of fraud or error in both the voting and counting in Philadelphia, Lackawanna and Fayette counties were presented in the petition.

A date for argument probably will not be set until after all 67 counties have certified their primary results to the State Elections Bureau.

Musmanno Stretches Lead In Senate Bid

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Justice Michael A. Musmanno stretched his lead slightly Monday in his fight to become the Democratic nominee for U.S. senator as Genevieve Blatt's supporters went into court to contest the primary election results.

Bond Issue

levy would be required over a 23-year period.

The 4.7 mills would include five-tenths of a mill to repay the $990,958 to the state, Blair said.

Although the money must be repaid to the state, there is no interest charge, the superintendent emphasized. If interest were charged, it would total more than $600,000 over the 23 years or an amount almost equal to the estimated cost of one of the elementary buildings, he said.

"I don't believe we will have this opportunity again for some time to come—if ever," Blair said.

Questioned by Harry D. McConville, board president, Blair agreed that he and board members were told in Columbus only a simple majority would be required to pass the bond issue. He cited Section 3318.06 of the Revised Code as the authority.

BLAIR SAID most of the people he has talked with are "quite concerned" and expressed hope the favorable tempo continues.

"I wish I could say that all I have talked to are favorable, but I can't," John R. Woomer reported. "We will be dollars ahead if we can proceed; we might not be able to get state aid in the future. But we have a real selling job to do. A lot of people are not convinced."

Mrs. Nessie Dunlop, vice president, pointed out one thing in favor is that construction of the elementary buildings in the East End, North Side and Pleasant Heights would tend to unite the district.

Questioned by a spectator about the outlook for the present high school buildings, Samuel M. Brown pointed out he doesn't believe they are unseizable.

"Perhaps Memorial Auditorium could serve as a city auditorium, which is badly needed. The high school building perhaps could be used for a junior college or vocational training."

"I BELIEVE the buildings have served a useful purpose but are no longer adequate for the school program," Blair said. He said the laboratories are "very depressing."

The State Board of Education gave conditional approval to the $990,958 grant on May 11, the fourth highest among 14 school districts to receive funds under the initial allocation from a $250 million bond issue approved last November. Fifty-four school districts had submitted applications.

East Liverpool's application was based on a building survey made about a year ago by Uiterback and W. D. Darling, assult should Musmanno be declared the winner.

The primary was three weeks ago and with over 920,000 votes counted there still is no winner — and probably won't be until the State Supreme Court decides the legality of over 1,000 absentee ballots.

Musmanno, who has taken a leave of absence from the state's highest tribunal in his quest for the senatorial nomination, widened his lead to 163 yesterday on the basis of nearly complete official returns tabulated by the Associated Press.

He started the day ahead by 147, increased it to 189 at one point then dropped back to 163 with the certification by the State Election Bureau of the votes in 32 counties. The big change was a gain of 30 votes by Miss Blatt in Northumberland County.

And a recheck of voting machines in five Philadelphia Districts gave him an additional six votes.

The Associated Press figures include the complete vote, with absentees, from 62 counties.

sistent superintendent of public instruction.

THEY recommended a new high school have top priority but cautioned the board to consider the elementary schools, pointing out that all but LaCroft, Westgate, Glenmoor, and the new section of Taft are antiquated and located on inadequate sites.

The school board had been considering whether to seek a new high school plant or abandon Central and erect a new laboratory building. However, the two state officials warned the district would not be considered "for a penny" in state aid if it decided to modernize the present plant.

"I don't feel that to abandon the facilities would be a misuse of authority; the real misuse would be to spend another $1 million to make them useable," Darling told the board last year.

Airlift Aid In Congo

LEOPOLDVILLE, The Congo (AP) — U.N. aircraft airlifted ammunition today to two Congolese commando companies cut off by Communist-backed rebels rampaging through Kwilu Province.

pared to $3,100 to $3,800; three-year training, $3,600 to $4,100, compared to $3,400 to $4,100; bachelor degree, $4,350 to $5,400, compared to $3,800 to $4,640; five years, $4,500 to $5,550, compared to $4,000 to $4,910, and master's, $4,700 to $5,900 compared to $4,200 to $5,110.

A $200 increment is also provided for teachers who have taught in the district 10 years only to the first two categories, and in all categories, at the end of 15 years service, there will be a $200 increment.

The board last night eliminated summer courses at the high school, such as makeup classes and advanced studies, but retained driver training and one month of band instruction because contracts were signed for these.

There will be only one month of band at the high school instead of two months, and there will be no summer band at the Public School. This amounts to a saving of about $4,000.

The board also tentatively eliminated the post of fulltime nurse, but plans further study of this vital health program, it was explained.

It was announced the Athletic Boosters have indicated plans to raise money needed for the salaries of coaches in football, basketball and other sports in the high school and public school.

The money would be donated to the board, which will retain the responsibility of selecting and appointing the coaching staff under state regulations.

The board is studying other aspects of operations for possible reduction of costs, chiefly in the transportation area.

In other action, the board accepted the resignations of John Brenot and Mrs. Dorothy Brenot, high school instructors who plan to teach in Greece, and Miss Marguerite Alexee, high school English teacher.

Payment for some of the repairs for the Rogers School, damaged by fire in December, was approved. The damage, amounting to about $20,000, was covered entirely by insurance.

first two weeks to establish the average daily attendance on which the foundation program is based.

However, to meet the need for a 176-day session in 1964-65, classes will be held during the five Saturdays in October, the Thanksgiving holiday will be Nov. 26-29, the Christmas holiday will be Dec. 24-27, and the New Year's holiday will be Dec. 29-Jan. 3. There will be no Easter recess, and school will end June 4.

The football schedule will be met in September, with the initial game at Greenford Sept. 12, because the games have already been contracted for, the board explained.

About 58 attended the meeting of the board. There was some discussion of the school finances. Financial records of the district are currently being studied by state auditors as part of the biennial audit.

The delay in opening the school will reduce the amount of money which the board members say will have to borrow to operate the school until another levy can be submitted for a vote.

Arthur Pritchard of the Wayne area was named substitute bus driver, replacing Paul Witherow of Wayne.

A delegation of five members of the Knights of Columbus Council of Salineville, headed by James Coughen, grand knight, presented recommendations for alterations to the corner stone of the high school, which bears a Masonic Lodge emblem.

Action on the proposal was tabled until all organizations connected with the stone are represented. A special meeting will be held Monday night to discuss the matter.

4-H News

The 4-H Brave Wide-Awake Girls of Hanoverton met Saturday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Adele Stankewitz.

A project on making head scarfs was the group's project. Roll call was answered by naming the famous "Beatles."

The club's next meeting will be June 5 at the home of Diane Balint of Hanoverton R. D. 1. Each member is to bring material and a pattern for a blouse.

Diane Balint will give a safety talk and Debbie and Patty Lindersmith will give a demonstration on cooking. Miss Balint is reporter.

'Bleeding' Street Slagged Again In Wellsville Work

The Ohio Valley Paving Corp. of St. Clairsville today was applying another coat of slag to 15th St. in Wellsville, which has been "bleeding" since it was seal-coated by the firm last summer.

Safety - Service Director Fred Baldasare said the firm assumed the responsibility for the project. Previously the city had tried applying sand and a fine coat of slag.

The contractor provided the slag and spreader. The city's roller will be used to go over the street, the director said.

KSU Eyes Warren

WARREN, Ohio (AP) — Kent State University is eyeing Warren as a possible site for a branch campus. That would add Day classes to night classes, which currently are being held in a Kent State center in Hardin High School. Robert I. White, Kent State president, advised the Warren Area College Committee Monday that the university would make a feasibility survey in the area.

New Way Found To Stop Hair Loss, Grow More Hair

HOUSTON, Texas — If you don't suffer from male pattern baldness, there is now an excellent chance you can stop your hair loss and grow more hair.

For years "they said it couldn't be done." But now a firm of laboratory consultants has developed a treatment that is not only stopping hair loss but is really growing hair!

They don't even ask you to take their word for it. If they believe that the treatment will help you, they invite you to try it for 32 days, at their risk, and see for yourself!

Naturally, they would not offer this no-risk trial unless the treatment worked. However, it is impossible to satisfy everyone.

The great majority of cases of excessive hair fall and baldness are the beginning and more fully developed stages of male pattern baldness and cannot be helped.

But how can any man or woman be sure what is actually causing their hair loss? Even if baldness may seem to "run in your family," this is certainly no proof of the cause of YOUR hair loss.

Actually, there are many scalp conditions that can cause hair loss. No matter which one is the cause of your hair loss, if you wait until you are slick bald and your hair roots are dead, you are beyond help. So, if you still have hair (or at least some fuzz) on top of your head, and would like to stop your hair loss and grow more hair . . . now is the time to do something about it, before it's too late.

Loesch Laboratory Consultants, Inc., will supply you with treatment for 32 days, at their risk, if they believe the treatment will help you. Just send them the information listed below. All inquiries are answered promptly, by mail and without obligation. Adv.

It was announced the Athletic Boosters have indicated plans to raise money needed for the salaries of coaches in football, basketball and other sports in the high school and public school.

The money would be donated to the board, which will retain the responsibility of selecting and appointing the coaching staff under state regulations.

The board is studying other aspects of operations for possible reduction of costs, chiefly in the transportation area.

In other action, the board accepted the resignations of John Brenot and Mrs. Dorothy Brenot, high school instructors who plan to teach in Greece, and Miss Marguerite Alexee, high school English teacher.

Payment for some of the repairs for the Rogers School, damaged by fire in December, was approved. The damage, amounting to about $20,000, was covered entirely by insurance.

first two weeks to establish the average daily attendance on which the foundation program is based.

However, to meet the need for a 176-day session in 1964-65, classes will be held during the five Saturdays in October, the Thanksgiving holiday will be Nov. 26-29, the Christmas holiday will be Dec. 24-27, and the New Year's holiday will be Dec. 27-Jan. 3. There will be no Easter recess, and school will end June 4.

The football schedule will be met in September, with the initial game at Greenford Sept. 12, because the games have already been contracted for, the board explained.

About 58 attended the meeting of the board. There was some discussion of the school finances. Financial records of the district are currently being studied by state auditors as part of the biennial audit.

The delay in opening the school will reduce the amount of money which the board members say will have to borrow to operate the school until another levy can be submitted for a vote.

Arthur Pritchard of the Wayne area was named substitute bus driver, replacing Paul Witherow of Wayne.

A delegation of five members of the Knights of Columbus Council of Salineville, headed by James Coughen, grand knight, presented recommendations for alterations to the corner stone of the high school, which bears a Masonic Lodge emblem.

Action on the proposal was tabled until all organizations connected with the stone are represented. A special meeting will be held Monday night to discuss the matter.

Diane Balint will give a safety talk and Debbie and Patty Lindersmith will give a demonstration on cooking. Miss Balint is reporter.

'Bleeding' Street Slagged Again In Wellsville Work

The Ohio Valley Paving Corp. of St. Clairsville today was applying another coat of slag to 15th St. in Wellsville, which has been "bleeding" since it was seal-coated by the firm last summer.

Safety - Service Director Fred Baldasare said the firm assumed the responsibility for the project. Previously the city had tried applying sand and a fine coat of slag.

The contractor provided the slag and spreader. The city's roller will be used to go over the street, the director said.

The entire street has been barricaded for the project. City crews are continuing to cut grass at various locations, the director said. Grading and dilling of the alleys also is continuing.

KSU Eyes Warren

WARREN, Ohio (AP)—Kent State University is eyeing Warren as a possible site for a branch campus. That would add Day classes to night classes, which currently are being held in a Kent State center in Hardin High School. Robert I. White, Kent State president, advised the Warren Area College Committee Monday that the university would make a feasibility survey in the area.

New Way Found To Stop Hair Loss, Grow More Hair

HOUSTON, Texas — If you don't suffer from male pattern baldness, there is now an excellent chance you can stop your hair loss and grow more hair.

For years "they said it couldn't be done." But now a firm of laboratory consultants has developed a treatment that is not only stopping hair loss... but is really growing hair! They don't even ask you to take their word for it. If they believe that the treatment will help you, they invite you to try it for 32 days, at their risk, and see for yourself! Naturally, they would not offer this no-risk trial unless the treatment worked. However, it is impossible to satisfy everyone.

The great majority of cases of excessive hair fall and baldness are the beginning and more fully developed stages of male pattern baldness and cannot be helped.

But how can any man or woman be sure what is actually causing their hair loss? Even if baldness may seem to "run in your family," this is certainly no proof of the cause of YOUR hair loss.

Actually, there are many scalp conditions that can cause hair loss. No matter which one is the cause of your hair loss, if you wait until you are slick bald and your hair roots are dead, you are beyond help. So, if you still have hair (or at least some fuzz) on top of your head, and would like to stop your hair loss and grow more hair... now is the time to do something about it, before it's too late.

Loesch Laboratory Consultants, Inc., will supply you with treatment for 32 days, at their risk, if they believe the treatment will help you. Just send them the information listed below. All inquiries are answered promptly, by mail and without obligation. Adv.

'Poverty' Can Be Voluntary

President Johnson's current campaign against "poverty" has brought Republican retaliation.

Two congressmen—M. G. Snyder of Kentucky and Dave Martin of Nebraska—have asked the President, in effect: "What about Lady Bird's acreage in Alabama where her tenants live in abject poverty? Why don't you do something about them?"

The First Lady's staff director has explained that it is true that a Negro share-cropper family does occupy some of Mrs. Johnson's Alabama acreage which once was cotton land and now has been diverted mostly into timber.

It so happens that the share-croppers pleaded with Mrs. Johnson to let them stay on as long as they lived. They pay her $5-a-month rent. She provides them with clothes and gifts occasionally. They are grateful to her. They have what they want for their own happiness.

THE INCIDENT simply points up a question which many more affluent Americans have overlooked: What is poverty?

Some define it as anything below an artificial figure of annual income. Others define it in terms of housing, clothing, automobiles, material possessions.

There is no real definition. The family accustomed to $20,000 a year might feel poverty-stricken if it were cut to $15,000. The family with $5,000 a year might consider itself "poor" if it were reduced to $4,000. Some families with $1,000 are not "poor": they are wealthy because they have all they need and want for their own happiness.

Getting To Know Ourselves

The fact that many people do not know just what Patterson Industries produces was reported by Dick Witherow, sales manager of the firm, at a dinner meeting of the Chamber of Commerce Monday.

Patterson executives are not alone in their concern about the public's lack of knowledge about their products, although Patterson's output is in many diverse areas.

Many pottery workers are unsure about the steel industry processing and the various metal products which are shipped out of Midland and Weirton.

Not a few steelworkers have never been in a pottery, don't know a jigger from a sagger. The realm of roofing materials, church envelopes, cardboard boxes, metal lathes, bricks, tile and other area products rarely overlap.

But local industry is vital to everyone in the community, in terms of providing employment, expenditures, taxes, a various community supports and other aid.

Industry is no longer thought of an oppressive exploiter of the working class, any more than the labor union is thought

How To Build Confidence

Secretary of Defense McNamara has described the war in South Viet Nam as being different because it "for the confidence of the people and the security of those people and that kind of war is a long, hard war."

There is no debate on what kind of a war it is. But surely the secretary of defense must have understood by this time that it may be easier to win the confidence of the people of South Viet Nam than to win the confidence of his fellow Americans.

Inability to win their confidence was the root of the trouble in South Korea. At the height of national disenchantment, even the supreme commander of the United Nations forces in Korea had lost confidence in his own government and had to be brought home. Gen. Douglas MacArthur admitted he could not understand what his government was doing.

It was plain both during and after the Korean war that U.S. troops were having

Invasions

Another one of those things that make a man glad to be a nonentity has happened.

The woman who was the late John F. Kennedy's personal secretary, Mrs. Evelyn Lincoln, saved all his doodles, and they will be taken on tour.

Samples reveal that the man who was doomed to fall victim to the violence and hatred of his time was an ordinary doodler — nothing unusual. He had a favorite doodle, as most of us have. His was a sailboat.

Mine happens to be a rectangular table drawn in perspective, as it would look from one end. It will depend on how handy you are with a pen and pencil. I have known people with skill who doodled sketches of pinup girls.

MR. KENNEDY was great for boxing in tidbits of information, a practice I suspect reflects the urge to impose order on a world that muddles along in a state of chaos. Most of us have this urge, I believe.

I notice that when I am in a prime state of mind for doodling, as I am when a telephone conversation drags on, I box in a wide variety of things, mostly words that have come to mind during the marathon discourse.

These are not words that would be suitable for taking on tour. Neither are my pictures, one of which is a tricky little thing that looks like a fat woman

President Johnson has made a big to-do about the so-called "poverty" in "Appalachia." There's no doubt that some families in this one-time comparatively prosperous coal mining belt are in dire financial straits. They are dejected and frustrated and deserve the sympathy and help of fellow Americans.

Some of them, however, would not change places with the so-called affluent for anything in the world. They like life as they have it.

SOME PARTS OF OHIO have individuals intelligent and skilled enough to hold down good-paying industrial jobs but don't want to work. Their employers are forced to beg them to work when there's work to be done.

But they work only long enough to earn enough to buy a new stove, or a television set, or an auto, or perhaps shoes. They'd rather hunt and fish than work. They have their own little garden plots, a few hens, perhaps a couple of hogs for meat.

They like it that way. No amount of money offered for a job can lure them to change their way of life.

There are thousands of this same sort of people elsewhere in "Appalachia."

President Johnson needs to be careful whom a generous Uncle Sam offers to help. Good Americans sympathize with those genuinely in need. They won't be interested in shelling out for those who are happy as they are and don't want jobs or money.

of by industry as a rabble-rousing stealer of profits.

The presence of steel union and pottery union leaders at last night's "Industry Appreciation" event underscored the interdependence industry, labor and the whole community have in the East Liverpool area.

There is a felt need, however, for all those in the area to broaden their knowledge of every facet of community life, in industry, in labor problems, in municipal government, in the schools, in recreation potential, in civic improvements.

Because our area is split not only by the Ohio River, but by three state borders, a full understanding becomes more difficult.

But the river, the working force, the other facilities of the area also provide the great potential which has been demonstrated in part by the arrival of the new Anchor Hocking Co. facility in the East End.

The more we all learn about our industry, our communities, our local resources of all kinds, the better we will be able to utilize them for new development.

unusual morale problems because they neither understood nor sympathized with their government's aims.

They did not understand, for example, why the war was not carried across the Yalu River to enemy bases and supply lines in Manchuria. They did not understand why their government did not exploit its air superiority.

Today in South Viet Nam, U.S. troops — ostensibly advising and training a local soldiery — do not understand their government's reluctance to use modern weapons and to carry the war into North Viet Nam. Either they haven't been told or cannot comprehend a Geneva treaty ending the war in Indo-China that proscribes modern weapons — a treaty the United States has been observing.

While U.S. fighting men are building confidence in the South Vietnamese, Secretary of Defense McNamara and the Johnson administration have their work cut out for them building confidence in U.S. policy in South Viet Nam.

weeding a garden as seen from the side in which she is not facing.

One wonders, at least this one wonders, if there may have been items like these among John Kennedy's doodles. If Mrs. Lincoln saved every scrap of paper, as reported, surely this ultra-virile American must have jotted down some observations during his public life that reflected passing thoughts of annoyance and would not be suitable for viewing.

My own doodles clearly reflect how I feel about the world's giant-size collection of knot-heads, creeps, monsters in human form, Jugular Jakes and Typhoid Tillies. My crude sketches of animals in anatomical detail are not accidental but topical. And they are highly personal in tone.

MRS. LINCOLN never told her boss what she was doing; you can be sure of that. He couldn't have doodled a doodle had he known posterity would be looking over his shoulder.

I can only imagine how it would be if I had a personal secretary and knew she was picking up every scrap of paper and putting it away for other eyes to look at in the future. I'd quit doodling. I also would fire the secretary.

Matter of fact, I'd freeze tight. What I doodle, like playing with my toes in the bathtub, is a strictly personal antic, and I look with disfavor on what appears to me to be inexcusable invasions of privacy.

Drowning Out A Whole Band

Labor Unions Want To Increase Dues

By Victor Riesel

A few hours before Barry Goldwater was hailed by ricocheting roars (108 times in 42 minutes) in New York's Madison Square Garden last Tuesday, Walter Reuther flew in to address a Men's Clothing union convention which endorsed President Johnson for reelection. At almost the same moment, David Dubinsky, Ladies' Garment Workers' Union chief, was completing plans to welcome Lyndon Johnson at a special ceremony in New York on June 6, and Communication Workers' leader Joseph Beirne was fully set to receive the President at his own convention in Cleveland next month.

At the very hour last Tuesday, American labor leaders were deep in a score of primary election fights across the country—while others were meeting with government officials across the world. They were in Japan, Kenya, Italy. They were consulting with Brazilians, Chileans, Panamanians and Caribbean leaders. A few were host to Tran Quoc Buu, president of the Confederation of Workers of Viet Nam.

WHEN ALL these skeins are woven together they produce a pattern of an all-encompassing new unionism requiring vast funds.

But labor's financial mechanism was started in the days of the bookkeepers who sat on high stools and wore celluloid cuffs. The dues structure was created in gaslight times when the labor movement did not have the powerful Washington lobby of today or the 5 cent-per-member (13 million of them) for political registration or the global international activity, or the 50 cent-a-man drive for the John F. Kennedy Library and the Eleanor Roosevelt Memorial Foundation.

While the national AFL-CIO and scores of its affiliated national unions are ultra-modern in their concepts, they consider their dues structures strictly out of nickelodeon days.

Thus, on May 21 in Louisville, Ky., the secretary-treasurers of the national federation's hundreds of unions will meet under the guidance of AFL-CIO secretary-treasurer, William Schnitzler, an ex-baker who can still whip dough into a fine cake.

LIKE OTHER expanding enterprises, the unionists find their costs skyrocketing, their staffs growing, their central expenses eating more and more into income and their cash inflow (dues) too low.

The secretary-treasurers will review the dues structures with an eye on raising them to meet costs. They'll also discuss the handling of vast sums which create new intricacies.

Their model, for example, may be Reuther's United Auto Workers (UAW) which has its per capita tax on each member broken down so it flows into many funds.

The UAW's general dues intake was $22,649 million in 1963. Its international strike fund collected $17 million, a sum which escalates the union's war chest total to some $65 million.

Reuther and his colleagues also have a Citizenship Fund, which drew in more than $690,000 in dues last year; an Education Fund, $400,000, and a series of smaller funds.

One also gets an idea of the vast sums involved in modern unionism by scanning the United Steelworkers' financial sheets. In '63 this union took in more than $54 million in dues, about half of which goes back to the locals.

LAST YEAR the national office in Pittsburgh sent its regional affiliates more than $27 million, leaving it $26,703 million with which to operate and invest. Its bank balance at year's end was some $2,214 million.

This is hardly reminiscent of the days of "Workers of the world unite. You have nothing to lose but your chains."

With such sums in the exchequer and with millions of members and a thousand varied activities to supervise, the secretary-treasurers will spend some of their time next week discussing the installation of computer systems—just like any garden variety capitalist enterprise.

At least one national union, the 800,000-member Carpenters' Brotherhood has in its Washington headquarters a data processing electronic brain—RCA's 301. This is the first electronic computer to be used inside a labor office.

A UNION spokesman proudly said the other day:

"We have a more extensive record of every member than any other international union in the world. Members go in and out of the organization—into the service, die or retire and we get the information far more completely and far more swiftly than ever before."

The secretary-treasurers' conference will consider the joint use of a big computer centrally located in the national AFL-CIO headquarters to save costs. Such an electronic brain could not only report what funds are where or what dues must still be collected, but who has registered and voted and whether a member is active politically, civically or inside the union—for all 13 million members.

A good computer might even predict where Jimmy Hoffa will be living a year from now.

Prosperity Formula

By David Lawrence

Romney Suggests 'Sharing' Profits With Public

The big profits which the automobile industry recently disclosed have attracted the covetous eyes of the labor unions.

Walter Reuther, president of the United Auto Workers, is quoted by the United Press International as having said in a press interview in New David Lawrence York a few days ago that the UAW would, in its new contracts, try to "relieve" General Motors of some of its multimillion-dollar profits.

Now comes another news dispatch from Washington quoting a high government source as saying that the Johnson administration doesn't expect the forthcoming negotiations between the unions and the companies "to force an increase in car prices."

So it's apparent that the unions will try to get as much as they can out of the companies' profits. There is no indication as to what the consumer may get, except possibly the assurance that the prices of cars will not be raised. This will be called wage-price "stability."

Oddly enough, a dissenting view has been expressed by a man who not only has often been mentioned for the Republican presidential nomination but who, prior to election to his post as governor of Michigan, headed up a big automobile company. He especially recommends that in periods of prosperity the public should get the benefit of high profits by being given a reduction in car prices.

WHAT GOV. George Romney said on May 7 was not widely printed. He talked informally at the Party-to-People Forum in Chicago sponsored by the Republican national committee, and such talks, though delivered at open meetings, are sometimes not given much attention in the press because they are made at a political forum. Nor did Mr. Reuther of the Auto Workers Union — if, indeed, he did read the speech — heed the advice given. What Gov. Romney said is, however, a new approach to the wage-price problem of the day and certainly is significant beyond the realm of party politics. Extracts from Mr. Romney's talk follow:

"As a matter of fact, I think, on the basis of current economic policies, that it's just a question of time in this country before we'll face a real economic crisis, and I think this is because we have been ignoring certain defects in national economic policy that are sooner or later going to catch up on us. . . .

"Now the facts are that under the current laws we have in this country, permitting the concentration of economic power, unions and employers have largely been picking up the results of progress, and the customers have not been sharing in that progress.

"The thing that has made our economic development broad, and has stimulated it, has been bringing more and more customers into the market. The reason automation — which is not a new thing, except that we are using different techniques, but as a principle it is not new — the reason automation is not producing more jobs, and enough jobs, is because customers are not being made the principal beneficiaries of our economic progress. Now that is number one.

"And this is important because we have a conflict in our national economic policy, and this conflict in our national economic policy is as fatal to economic growth in this country as the conflict between slavery and freedom was in the social field a hundred years ago."

GOV. ROMNEY added that concentrations of power among organizations of employers and unions are being promoted in this country and are producing "repeated national emergencies."

He declared that the automobile industry must share its progress with the public, even as the employees themselves must share. He made reference to a profit-sharing plan that he had put into effect when he was president of American Motors. He continued:

"As far as I was concerned, I undertook to embody that in what I called a progress-sharing contract that we negotiated with the UAW in 1961; and this contract starts on the premise that if labor and management and capital are to prosper, then the customer must be the first to participate in progress."

Referring to the comment by President George Meany of the AFL-CIO in Atlantic City recently that government intervention in the fixing of wages and prices means destruction of collective bargaining, Gov. Romney said:

"And not only are we in the process of going down the road of destroying collective bargaining — we're also going down the road of destroying the private-enterprise system in this country, and we're throttling its operation."

THE MICHIGAN governor said that to permit a concentration of private power by a combination of unions or employers "not only thwarts economic progress and the employment and the use of automation, but it also increases the reliance on government, and the government keeps stepping into this process."

These are not the kind of thoughts the country is hearing from any of the avowed presidential candidates of either party but they would seem to be worthy of further study by the present or future makers of national economic policy.

NATO's Future

By Don Cook

In the 15 years since the signing of the Atlantic Pact, there have been four presidents of the United States, five prime ministers of Great Britain, 12 premiers of France — and three NATO secretary-generals.

First came Lord Ismay of Great Britain. He was succeeded at the end of 1957 by Paul-Henri Spaak of Belgium. In April of 1961, Dirk U. Stikker of the Netherlands took over.

In two months time Stikker will retire to be succeeded by Manlio Brosio, at present the Italian ambassador to Paris. Brosio has also represented his country in Washington and London as well as having served as a cabinet minister in Rome.

Continuity in the midst of change has been one of the strong assets of the top NATO civilian job. Each of the three men to have held it so far has stamped the organization and its political operations with his own personality, his own methods and his own ideas.

THE JOB of NATO secretary-general has both its frustrations and limitations as well as prestige and possibilities.

It may be an alliance of friends with a common purpose but there is a permanent "Handle With Care" sign on the secretary-general's desk, chair, telephone.

Lord Ismay was perhaps the most experienced and effective soldier-diplomat of any nation during World War II. He brought to NATO an enormous sense of governmental know-how, of cabinet and committee as well as military experience which enabled him to get people talking and working together, and then intervened to get decisions before the talk got bogged down.

Spaak was much more of the politician. He paid far less attention to the NATO machinery, and preferred to get things done by sudden strokes, bold interventions, political forays — both with the NATO Permanent Council and with individual NATO governments and ministers.

HIS TECHNIQUE was to sound the battle cry and get up in front of the troops, waving them to follow.

Stikker has concentrated on building the NATO secretariat and the NATO international machinery into an entity of its own.

Now it will be the turn of Manlio Brosio. Among NATO diplomats who have followed the techniques and style of the last three secretary-generals, there seems to be a feeling that Brosio could borrow a little from each: some of the Stikker organization, some of the flair for political intervention and above all the Ismay ability to get people talking and working together, to bring the international staff and the NATO Permanent Council into closer harmony.

Efforts To Save Boy
In Burning Car Futile

PAINESVILLE, Ohio (AP)—Efforts of two relatives to save a 3-year-old boy from a burning automobile were thwarted by intense heat. Timothy Rippin of Mentor-on-the-Lake died in the blaze Monday. The auto was parked outside his grandmother's house.

The boy's mother, Mrs. John Rippin, 21, had gone into the house to pick up some uniforms. The inside of the car caught fire in the meantime. Mrs. Rippin's brother and father were unable to save the boy. Cause of the fire has not been determined.

Strangulation Ruled
In Death Of Boy, 15

CANTON, Ohio (AP)—A 15-year-old boy whose skeleton was found in a wooded area in Jackson Township May 2, was strangled with a clothesline, Stark County Coroner G. S. Shaheen has ruled. The ruling Monday was in the death of Thomas J. Sumerix of Akron, who had been missing since June 5, 1963.

A length of clothesline was found with the skeleton. Coroner Shaheen said his ruling was based on a confidential FBI report, but he declined further comment. An investigation into the crime is continuing.

Urging Strict Ethical Regulations

Senate Probers Arrange
Secret Parley On Baker

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate committee investigating Bobby Baker goes behind closed doors Wednesday to consider a proposed report that blames the Senate for putting Baker and others in places of responsibility without imposing "enforceable standards of honesty."

To remedy the situation, it urges a strict set of ethical regulations for Senate employees and senators.

The report, submitted to the Rules Committee by its special counsel, L. P. McLendon, alleges that as a Senate employee Baker was guilty of gross improprieties but holds he was not legally guilty of conflict of interest.

Baker, 36, resigned as secretary to the Senate's Democratic majority Oct. 7 after conflict-of-interest allegations.

The proposed report said disclosures in the Senate investigation "convincingly prove the existence of a breeding ground of practices inimical to the public interest."

"No amount of sophistry," it said, "can relieve the Senate of the public criticism now directed against it."

"The Senate, as a body, and senators individually have suffered the loss of much respect and prestige because of conditions this investigation has brought to light."

To put the situation right, McLendon's report urges:

1. A system of compulsory public disclosure of the identity of the financial interests of all senators, officers and employees.
2. Compulsory prohibition "of all associations by senators, officers and employees with persons and organizations outside the Senate who are engaged in conducting business with the government or have business before the government officers or agents."

3. A requirement by the Senate, as a matter of permanent policy, that all senators respond to requests from any of its committees to appear and testify about any knowledge they have of a subject under investigation.

The report was submitted to the committee 10 days ago and was leaked to newsmen Monday. Wednesday's closed meeting is for members to go over the draft and offer suggestions.

Committee Chairman B. Everett Jordan, D-N.C., has said he expects the committee to make some changes in the proposed report before submitting it to the Senate.

The committee's Republican minority, which has attacked the Democrats' handling of the investigation, was reported drawing up a separate report.

Johnson Asks
$125 Million
More For Viet

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Johnson sent top makers of military and foreign policy to Capitol Hill today to support his request for an extra $125 million in aid for South Viet Nam.

"Increased Communist terror requires it," the President said Monday in a special message to Congress asking for an additional $55 million in military aid and 70 million in economic assistance.

Republican members of the House Foreign Affairs Committee are likely to go along with Johnson.

"This nation should not be penny wise and pound foolish on this thing," said Republican Rep. Robert Barry of New York. "For us to nit-pick at this stage would be most unwise."

Still, to play it safe, Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara, Secretary of State Dean Rusk, Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, and foreign aid director David E. Bell were sent before the committee.

An ardent Republican economist, Rep. H. R. Gross of Iowa, said the boost would be hard to vote against.

"We want them to have what they say they need," he said. "But by the same token, I don't want it to go down the drain as supplies and everything else have gone down the drain in Viet Nam."

"All I can say is, I want to hear their reasons and it better be good," Gross added.

East Palestine Bans Additional House Trailers

EAST PALESTINE — A regulation prohibiting introduction of any more house trailers within the city limits was approved by Council under emergency procedure at a meeting Monday night.

The new ordinance provides that Council may, if so desired, establish a trailer park. The law does not apply to trailers now in the city.

Existing trailers can be replaced by another trailer with Council's permission.

Council asked for bids for placement of the city's active and inactive funds from area banks, and for blackout material for the annual summer repair work.

A major portion of the meeting was devoted to discussion of need for additional funds for street repair, especially for the recently annexed areas.

There is a possibility a levy will be submitted in November. A levy to provide funds for construction of the City Hall in 1953 expires this year.

Petitions Ask Surfacing On 3 City Streets

The first three neighborhood petitions have been filed in Safety-Service Director Robert E. Vodrey's office, seeking participation in the annual summer program for low-cost surfacing of secondary streets.

Eight or nine more of the petitions are in circulation, with the deadline set tentatively for June 15.

One of the petitions already filed seeks improvement of Arch Alley between Michigan and Ohio Aves. Another is for improvement of an unspecified street between the same two thoroughfares. The third seeks surfacing of a stretch of Oak St. without defining the boundaries of the improvement.

Council already has appropriated $8,000 to pay the city's 50 per cent share of the program.

As in 1962 and 1963, the city will pay half the cost of any project. The 1962 program covered 58,000 square yards of streets, while 38,000 square yards were treated in 1963.

Councilman Floyd Murray told Council May 4 the cost of the work this year is expected to be approximately the same as in 1962 and 1963.

As in the past, the petitions will be accepted on a "first come, first served" basis and the work will be scheduled as long as the city's matching funds hold out, he commented.

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: I am going with an interesting man who happens to be very good looking. Something about his looks bothers me and I'd like your advice.

Everett has very bushy eyebrows. They come together, instead of separating, as most people's eyebrows do. This gives him a fierce look.

Several weeks ago I hinted that I'd like to "tweeze" that little space in the middle so he would look as if he had two eyebrows instead of one. He laughed and said, "Men don't tweeze their eyebrows. I'd feel like a sissy."

Honestly, Ann, Everett would look so much better if he'd let me yank out about 12 hairs. Please tell me how to go about getting him to see it my way. —READY FOR THE PULL.

Dear Ready: You lost when you used the word tweezers. Most men think of tweezers as something for the girls.

I agree that two eyebrows are better than one, and that something should be done. But you'd better stay out of the act.

Urge Everett to ask his barber if he will snip a few of the wild hairs with a specially designed scissors. Many men have this done regularly. Eventually, the barber will get to the center of the problem.

recreation room when he should have been at home in bed. I noticed his face was very red. When I felt his forehead and discovered it was burning up I sent him home and telephoned his mother.

The neighbor boy was back in school after five days but our son caught his flu bug and we had to take him to the hospital. The bill was $160.

Do you feel we should send the bill to the neighbors? —FURIOUS.

Dear Furious: Please don't make jackasses of yourselves. Kids who play together catch things from one another. This comes under the heading of "Hazards of Growing Up." Could be that next week the neighbor boy will catch something from YOUR child.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Wellsville Veterans' Groups To Rehearse Memorial Rites

A rehearsal will be held tonight at 6 at Springhill Cemetery for ritual work to be presented Memorial Day by a team composed of representatives from Wellsville's veteran groups.

The program is being arranged by the Wellsville Memorial Council, which is made up of representatives from VFW Post 9285, VFW Post 5647 and American Legion Post 70.

This is the first year this type of a program has been scheduled. Mayor William Daugherty, who is president of the Memorial Council, said the special program will be held in place of a speaker.

Also participating in the ritual work will be Mrs. Mary Tucker, president of the auxiliary of VFW Post 9285, Mrs. Betty Maylone, president of Post 70 auxiliary, and Mrs. Lucille Reed, auxiliary president of VFW Post 5647.

The services will begin with a brief memorial and flag-raising at the Roadside Park on Wells Ave. The units then will parade to the 4th St. memorial for another service and then on to the cemetery.

The entire parade route will be lined with flags. Mayor Daugherty said the program will be very impressive.

A platform will be set up at the cemetery, containing a cross, a soldier's helmet, a flame and a flag, along with stacks of rifles on each side.

The Memorial Council will meet Thursday night at 8. Another rehearsal will be held at the Roadside Park next Tuesday at 6 p. m.

Honest Confession

Dear Ann: I'm a 15-year-old girl with a story to tell.

Last Saturday I was invited to the home of a girl who moved here recently from Worcester, Mass. Her mother asked me to stay through dinner and I accepted.

I noticed that this girl and her mother treated each other like friends instead of relatives. I felt embarrassed when I heard her talk so politely to her mother because I remembered how I talked to mine.

When this girl's mother got up from the dinner table to fill the milk glasses, she said, "Sit still, Mom, I'll do it." I then remembered how my mother had to tell me three times to fill the water glasses before she got any action.

I started on my new plan as soon as I got home. The first thing I did was to straighten my closet and clean my bookcase.

The next day I got up earlier than usual and did all the things I was supposed to do. I spoke very politely to Mom and noticed that in return she was especially nice to me. And it's been that way ever since.

Life is so much more pleasant when people get along together. It's just a matter of respecting one another. I know now that mothers don't enjoy yelling at kids any more than kids enjoy being yelled at.

They WANT to have peace in the family, but their kids have to meet them half way.—GLAD I LEARNED.

Dear Glad: A voice from the ranks. Hooray and thanks.

Bidding Set On Variety Of School Work

Authority to seek bids for painting, roof repairs and sealing of blacktopped parking areas at Westgate and Memorial Auditorium was granted Monday night by the Board of Education.

The board acted after hearing a report by Supt. Paul H. Blair on the recommendations of the building committee.

The superintendent estimated the summer maintenance work will cost between $25,000 and $30,000 but a balance will be maintained in the repair and maintenance fund for emergencies.

John R. Woomer, building committee chairman, said the committee couldn't touch many repairs because of the lack of funds. "Each year the buildings get older and maintenance is reaching the point of no return."

Woomer warned that additional maintenance funds will have to be sought if the proposed building program is not approved. "We're sending good money after bad."

Blair said the committee recommended painting the exterior of the Klondyke and Lincoln schools and the stairwells, principal's office and woodwork in the classrooms in the old section of Taft.

Ceilings in the lockerrooms at Westgate along with the entrance canopy also should be painted. Stained ceiling blocks at Memorial Auditorium also should be replaced and ceilings and lockerrooms painted.

Roof repairs are needed at several buildings before they are painted, Blair said, and gutters and downspouts at most elementary buildings also must be repaired.

Deluged with furnace repairs last year, the committee hopes there will be no major expenses this year, the superintendent continued.

Out Of The Air

By ALAN GILL

The Rich, Full Life Of Frank Buxton

The panelists of that week—Joan Fontaine, Arlene Francis, Dick Shawn, Sandy Barron—sat about the horseshoe table crackling wise and witty with the two contestants of the day, a Midwestern housewife and a sandy-haired gentleman from New Jersey.

The game was the new Goodson-Todman concoction, "Get the Message," which turns up on your ABC-TV channel in the vicinity of the lunch hour, Monday through Friday.

MISS FRANCIS was feeding a one-word clue, "grapes," to the housewife, hoping it would suggest the old Mae West line, "Come up 'n' see me sometime." (Mae had told her maid, "Beulah, peel me a grape.")

"My!" said Miss Fontaine. "Aren't we giving Proustian clues today!"

And I hope that gives you some idea of how classy this show can get.

Over these deliberations, a young fellow named Frank Buxton presides—a crew-cut, intelligent, undergraduate sort of fellow with the bonhomie of an Eskimo Pie salesman. (These, incidentally, are also among the qualities Buxton has been bringing to the excellent children's show, "Discovery.")

BUXTON hangs over his lectern, keeping things moving but not with that mortal dread of short silences that afflicts other game show coxswains.

When the taping was completed that Friday shortly after the noon hour, Buxton hopped about saying goodbye to the crew and then went sloping down 58th St. in New York in search of a cab that would take him to LaGuardia Airport, whence he would go winging to his wee house in the woods of New Hampshire, where he would remain until the following Tuesday night, at which time he'd be ready to tape another round of "Get the Message."

Whew! What a life!

"WELL, with 'Discovery' in reruns, it's a nice schedule, all right," said Buxton, as our cab took off in the direction of an East Side butcher shop. (Buxton was picking up a few pounds of kidney for his pussycats on the way.)

"My wife, Elizabeth, and I picked New Hampshire because of the skiing, mainly, and to get all the way out of this." He gestured toward an esthetically painful landscape beyond the windows.

Regarding "Get the Message," Buxton said he felt the game has picked up since the rules name clues now being permitted—and commented queasily on the resemblance of that day's male contestant to Charles Van Doren.

"And he didn't miss one darn message!"

HOW DID BUXTON get the "Message" job to begin with? "That's funny," he said. "My agent, Tom, is a mumbler, and one day he called Jack, my manager, and said, 'Get Frank up to Goodson-Todman next Wednesday. They need an m.c. for the mumble-mumble show.'"

"Well, Jack thought he said, 'for the 'Palace' show,' when actually the word was 'panel.' 'Hollywood Palace,' eh? I got all set to audition for a ringmaster's job: 'Ladies and gentlemen, the Zoni Family!' Or: 'Popoff's Charming Chimps!'"

"Heck, I'd done that sort of thing in high school. You know, when you're applying for the job of lion tamer, you don't bring out your Australian 'Bye Bye Birdie' clippings.

"AT THE AUDITION, somebody said something about 'game show' and—groom!—I had to switch gears. But I didn't flinch. Nerves of steel! And they signed me on.

"Mine hasn't been an overnight success, exactly. I used to show up at all those Broadway show auditions and there I'd find 24 people exactly like me. It was spooky.

"However, I haven't done that in ages. I know that I can do what I'm doing just as competently, though I shouldn't let the word get around."

At the airport, Buxton got to talking about comedy, music, TV commercials, the eight books he's writing, pre-1930 movie comedies and the sensible attitude of mother cats to their brood.

"EVERY MOTHER should be a cat," he said rather loudly as we rounded a turn in a corridor. Suddenly, he came upon a queue of passengers waiting to board his plane. All of them were grinning.

A lady said, "And what should every father be?"

A little girl said, "I know you! You're Frank Buxton!"

Frank shrugged his shoulders. He was in for quite a flight.

Massillon's Health Head Offered Post In County

LISBON — Dr. Merle Singer, 55, Massillon health commissioner, was offered a two-year contract as Columbiana County health commissioner at the Board of Health Monday night at the Courthouse.

Dr. Singer was interviewed at the meeting but has not accepted the position to succeed Dr. C. S. Palmer, who resigned due to health reasons but agreed to stay on until a successor is found.

Dr. Singer was born and reared in Massillon, where he was graduated from high school, attended Wittenberg University and is a graduate of Loyola University. He interned at St. Francis Hospital in Akron, spent 40 months in the service and was a surgeon in Massillon until he was seriously injured in an auto accident and lost his left arm about eight years ago.

In other business, the board reviewed the plumbing code and is expected to adopt new regulations to conform with state specifications at the next meeting June 15.

The dump license of Robert George of New Waterford was transferred to open a new landfill dump in Section 35 of Fairfield Township. George received a license for a landfill dump west of Washingtonville in Section 2 of Salem Township, but the location brought an avalanche of protests and it was rescinded by the board after the state geologist for the Division of Water said the leached fluid would almost certainly enter old mine openings and would contaminate ground waters in the area.

Harry Stockdale, sanitarian, reported a sanitary sewer system is needed for residents along Carolina Ave. and Wood Alley, west of St. Clair Ave., just outside East Liverpool. A state aide from Cuyahoga Falls will be called in to consult with homeowners in that area in the near future.

The department issued 28 plumbing and 38 sewage permits last month.

Stockdale reported his inspections included 14 food service, 21 sewage, 10 water, 18 nuisances, four schools, seven refuse and one trailer park. Gene Cover, plumbing inspector, made 42 plumbing and 31 sewage, six water, two nuisances, one refuse and one food service inspections.

Mrs. Ruth Kauffman, county nurse, gave 422 immunizations, made 10 doctor office visits and held five consultations.

Bills of $3,527 were ordered paid. Fred H. Johnson of Summitville, and Glen Hawkins of New Waterford, board members, were absent.

Fire Marshal Asks Stricter Laws For All Nursing Homes

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The State Fire Marshal Fred Rice has called for stiffer laws requiring all Ohio nursing homes to have automatic sprinkling systems since elderly patients "too often cannot escape" in a fire.

Nursing homes that cannot provide this type of protection and still make a profit should be closed, Rice said Monday.

Rice made the plea in a letter he wrote to the Legislative Service Commission, which will make recommendations on possible new laws to next General Assembly.

Noting the trend towards more nursing homes throughout the country, Rice said:

"Whether you like it or not, nursing homes are a type of hospital and we would never, under any circumstances, permit a hospital to exist in the type and construction of buildings that are presently used as nursing homes.

"During World War II the world was shocked when it learned that Hitler would gas and then cremate elderly German couples. Our methods are a little different, but we are accomplishing, in a degree, the same purpose."

The veteran fire official said his job was to save lives. He made it clear he had small interest in how little or how much profit was being made from nursing home patients.

It appeared from these remarks that Rice obviously was irked by arguments recently used by some nursing home operators that strong laws would put them out of business. Rice attended every meeting the legislative study committee held in its probe of nursing homes.

Recounting the Fitchville Nursing Home fire last Nov. 23 in which 63 elderly patients died, Rice discussed problems of evacuation which occurred then.

One Question Raised

6 Resignations O.K.'d By Board

The resignations of six teachers, including the high school football and basketball coaches, were accepted Monday night by the Board of Education.

The resignations were turned in by Robert Hedmond, head football coach; James R. Harris, head basketball coach; Mrs. Virginia Heddleston, Garfield teacher who is retiring, and Mrs. Carmen Mase.

REYNOLD E. Peduzzi resigned as assistant high school football coach and Dan R. Fisher quit his post as Westgate Junior High basketball coach. Both will remain on the faculty, however.

The only question on the resignations came from Richard Smith, who asked if Peduzzi automatically would remain as wrestling coach. "It is the superintendent's prerogative to assign any teacher to any position," Supt. Paul H. Blair replied.

The board also approved the appointment of Mrs. Nessie Davis as a teacher for next year.

It gave conditional approval to 347 seniors for graduation subject to final approval by the high school faculty.

A CONTRACT for typewriter repair was awarded to Valley Office Equipment, Inc., of Wheeling on its bid of $7 per machine. The only other bidder, Stevens Typewriter Service of East Liverpool, asked $9.50. Blair said the cost for the 83 typewriters would be $581 under the Wheeling firm's offer and $788.50 under Stevens' bid. The Wheeling firm held the contract for the last year.

The board authorized the rental of Westgate Auditorium next Monday and Tuesday to St. Aloysius, Immaculate Conception of Wellsville and Presentation of Midland for a festival of music. The rental fee will be $20 each night plus any custodial charges.

The East Liverpool Dance College was granted permission to use the auditorium on June 24 for a rehearsal and June 27 for a dance recital. The fee will be $20 for the rehearsal and $100 for the night of the recital plus custodial fees.

THE BOARD also authorized Columbiana County Youth-for-Christ to hold rallies on Aug. 22 and Nov. 21 at the auditorium at a fee of $20 per night plus custodial charges.

It also gave the Independent Garage Owners Association and the Columbiana County Motor Club permission to use the front parking area at Westgate on June 6 and 13 for an auto safety check.

A letter from Robert Malkin of the Veterans Council was received and filed. It asked that flags at all schools be cleaned and flown on Memorial Day.

The board also received the official certification of the vote on renewal of two levies totaling 12 mills from the County Election Board. Smith's motion to thank the public for the overwhelming support it gave the renewals was adopted unanimously.

JAMES MOSS, a former board member and representative of the Recreation Council, asked school co-operation in helping arrange playground baseball leagues in the afternoons.

Asst. Supt. George Hargraves reported the results of the Stanford achievement test given third, fifth and sixth grade students. Hargraves said the report was "encouraging" and reflected "the fine work being done by the teachers."

He termed the test "one of the most valuable instruments teachers and parents have for appraising a pupil."

Hargraves also reported he has visited every elementary classroom and approximately three-fourths of the secondary classrooms. He said it was his conclusion the district has "a good, sound instructional program and teachers are working hard to meet the problems."

HE EXPLAINED that a series of professional meetings have been launched with teachers in elementary buildings divided into grade level groups and secondary teachers split into 12 departments. Two meetings are being held with each group, he said.

John R. Woomer commended Miss Arletta Helfrich and choir members for the music festival and Harry D. McConville, president, agreed it was "a wonderful performance."

Samuel R. Brown noted the board can't help the choir. "I think we should be out beating the drums. They still don't have the money required (for a trip and concert at the World's Fair). However, our hands are tied."

THE BOARD is not permitted by state law to use tax money for such purposes.

Miss Kathryn C. Liebschner, clerk-treasurer, reported a balance of $220,682.91 in real estate taxes, including $178,206.18 for the general fund, $33,080.38 for bond retirement, and $9,306.35 for the repair and maintenance fund.

However, payment of some $60,000 in outstanding bills plus several payrolls has left the general fund with a deficit of $4,665.63. There also is a deficit of $34 in custodial training. There is a balance of $114.

256.33 in all school funds, including $87,590.72, bond retirement; $8,872.35, lunch room; $2,212.59, improvement; $397.28, night schools; $310.85, workbooks, and $19,572.17, repair and maintenance, she reported.

The quarterly state foundation check should be received this week, she added.

Coleman Starts 5th Term As Ohio Democratic Head

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—William L. Coleman, embarking upon his fifth term as chairman of the Ohio Democratic Party, says he will continue "to devote 24 hours a day" to the job.

The 50-year-old Marysville attorney was selected overwhelmingly to continue in the post Monday in a show of party harmony ignited last week by Sen. Stephen M. Young.

The 75-year-old incumbent junior senator has spent more than a year trying to oust Coleman, but last Friday said he would support Coleman's reelection because of assurances that Coleman would devote full time to the job.

Coleman said he had "farmed out" his law practice and would devote his time to the party post.

"We Democrats fight each other but we roll with the punches," Coleman said. "Now we are going to fight Republicans."

Esther F. Pinsky of Bellaire was named to direct a five-member group to "determine the lines of authority" between the state executive committee and the new organization of county chairmen, headed by Albert Porter, Cuyahoga County chairman.

Council Will Cut Back Sessions In Summer

Council adopted a recommendation of its rules committee Monday night and agreed to have only one regular session monthly — instead of the usual two — in the summer vacation season extending from June through August.

Instead of meeting on both the first and third Mondays of each month, Council will meet only on the third Monday in June, July and August. That means the sessions will be on June 15, July 20 and Aug. 17. The recommendation was made by Councilman Norman Bucher, head of the rules committee, who pointed out the same procedure has been followed in the past.

"Of course that does not mean we will not have special sessions, if they're necessary," Councilman Robert W. Sample Jr. said.

Rail Mishap Fatal

CLEVELAND (AP) — Three empty coal cars of an Erie-Lackawanna Railroad train ran over 35-year-old William L. McCary Monday night and killed him. The accident happened in a rail yard in the flats area.

Pottery Union Lists Data On Pension Fund

Details of the chinaware pension trust fund established in the contract between the International Brotherhood of Operative Pottery and chinaware manufacturers are being published in a booklet which will be distributed to the 2,500 union members covered by the agreement.

The minimum requirement to obtain benefits from the non-contributory plan is to be at least 60 years old with at least 15 years' service credit with one credit to be earned after Jan. 1, 1963, the IBOP said.

The maximum pension would be $46.50 a month in addition to social security. The maximum is based on 30 years of credited service at age 65. The pension would be in addition to social security.

However, no pension benefits will be payable before next Jan. 1, the union said.

If retirement is taken before age 65 but after 15 years' credited service, a factor is applied to obtain the reduced monthly benefit. A participant with 20 years' service could retire at 65 with a $31 monthly benefit. If he desired to retire at 62 years and 4 months, the normal retirement would be figured first and then a factor of .8222 applied to provide a monthly benefit of $25.49.

Those receiving the pension will not be permitted to work for a contributing employer or the competitor of a contributing employer. Benefits can not be assigned, sold, mortgaged or pledged.

A Board of Trustees will administer the plan with Donald C. Mackey as fund manager. IBOP representatives are Ralph Glaab, Charles F. Jordan, IBOP secretary-treasurer, Lester H. Null, Wayne Rose and E. L. Wheatley, president. Manufacturers' representatives are Ross Buchanan, Ivan Pultz, E. Kenneth Koos, John F. Lux and Douglas L. Reynolds.

Follansbee Man Held In Market Robbery

WELLSBURG (AP) — Authorities here Monday arrested James Thomas Scott, 44, of Follansbee on a charge of robbing a Huntington super-market last Wednesday.

Scott was arrested on the basis of a sketch made by a Huntington artist using descriptions supplied by witnesses to the holdup.

He is accused of taking $2,362 from the Eastern Food Market.

County Group Has Election

Salem Resident To Head Muscular Dystrophy Unit

LISBON — Eric Nyberg of Salem was elected president of the Columbiana County Muscular Dystrophy Chapter at a meeting Monday night at the Hotel Wick. He replaces Mrs. Robert Talbot of Salem.

Others elected were Fr. James Kolp of West Point, vice president; Miss Catherine McKee of Lisbon, secretary, and Mrs. Albert Beeson of Salem, treasurer.

About 15 attended the Dutch treat dinner.

Floyd Trachsel of Columbus, district director for the Ohio MD Association, screened a film about Camp Red Raider where muscular dystrophy patients are treated.

Democrats List $664 Expense In May 5 Campaign

The Columbiana County Democratic Central Committee notified the County Election Board that it spent $664 in the May 5 primary.

Don R. Gosney of Columbiana, chairman, said the committee had a balance of $1,500 in its treasury and received $1,296 from the 18th District dinner held May 1. The remaining balance of $2,132 will be used in the fall campaign, Gosney said.

Joel H. Sharp of Salem, unopposed for the Republican nomination as Common Pleas Court judge, said he had no expenses.

The Southern Local School District had no expenditures in seeking an 8.8-mill levy, Robert M. Cole, clerk, said in his sworn statement.

Baden Man Indicted For Traffic Fatality

BEAVER — A 24-year-old Beaver County man was indicted for involuntary manslaughter Monday in Pittsburgh in connection with the fatal injury of another man in an automobile accident March 3 on Ohio River Blvd. at Millerton Ave., Northside.

James Throckmorton, of Baden, was charged in the death of Leo A. Donahoe, of McKees Rocks. Throckmorton's car struck an automobile in which Mr. Donahoe was a passenger, police had reported.

Arizona is known as the "Grand Canyon State."

Mrs. Beeson reported on finances. Bills totaling 279 were paid.

Miss McKee gave the 1963 report. Mrs. Talbot reported on the November fund drive, explaining the county was about $2,000 short of the goal of $5,000.

Mrs. Leo Jenkins, patient service director, reported on 10 patients aided by the chapter, explaining the chapter now has four wheelchairs along with a number of braces, and also provided transportation to clinics and hospitals.

Trachsel spoke on the annual conference Sept. 24 at New York.

Next meeting will be June 15.

Child Escapes Injury When Bumped By Car

An 8-year-old East End child escaped injury Monday afternoon at 3:39 when he ran into the side of an auto on Plummer St. at Monaca St., police said.

Charles Powell, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Powell of High St., was bumped by a 1962 model car operated by Keith Casto, 38, of 124 W. 4th St., officers reported. The motorist told Patrolman Jack Strobel the boy ran from the side of the street as the car rounded the turn from Monaca onto Plummer.

Taken to a nearby physician's office by the motorist, the boy showed no apparent injury, officers said.

The United States sells more than 28 per cent of the tobacco leaf bought in free world markets — some 505 billion pounds.

Study By Jurors Ended Quickly In Support Charge

LISBON — In one of the shortest trials in Common Pleas Court history Monday, a jury deliberated only 15 minutes before returning a verdict of not guilty in the trial of George Melinger, 58, of Akron, accused of failure to support three minor children.

The trial began about 10 a. m. The court picked a jury and heard testimony and Judge Joel H. Sharp gave the charge to the panel before it was excused at noon for lunch. The jury returned at 1 and reported at 1:15 that it had reached a verdict.

The defense did not cross-examine the state's witnesses, who included Mrs. Maggie Mellinger, the defendant's wife and Robert Bycroft, county welfare director. But Atty. James Primm, court-appointed defense counsel, argued that the defendant had no job and no property and could not pay for the support of his children.

The jury included Clyde Wilhelm, E. E. Rudebaugh, Helen Densmore, Dorothy Prager, Dorothy Shattenberg and Evelyn Copestick, all of East Liverpool; Helen B. Kyle and James Sample of Salem; Arthur Conrad and Robert Clark of Columbiana; Franklin H. Brooks of Leetonia and John R. Stecker of Washingtonville.

Probation Study Due For Youngstown Man

Common Pleas Judge Joel H. Sharp at Lisbon has ordered a probation study for Carlton Council, 27, of Youngstown, who switched his plea to guilty on a charge of receiving stolen property in a Wellsville case involving theft of cigarettes and rugs.

Prosecutor G. William Brokaw dismissed a charge of larceny in the same indictment after Council pleaded guilty to the lesser charge. The Youngstown man was apprehended by Wellsville police, who said he was carrying in his auto cigarettes stolen by two women accomplices from Mason's Foodliner and rugs taken from the Western Auto Supply Store.

Indicted by the April Grand Jury, Council originally pleaded not guilty at arraignment April 20.

Eye Next Move In Money Bid

Most Of Utah Teachers Plan To Stay Off Jobs

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah (AP)—Most of Utah's 10,000 teachers, faced with possible court action, planned to stay off their jobs again today to decide the next move in their efforts to get more money for education.

Virtually all public schools remained open, as Monday, when the two-day teachers' protest walkout began, and the State Board of Education sought a court order to keep teacher leadership from prolonging the walkout.

The order would prevent Utah Education Association officials from "encouraging teachers or other personnel to breach their contracts or to strike against the state or any of its school districts."

Judge Joseph G. Jeppson of 3rd District Court took the request under advisement.

The UEA planned a statewide meeting for teachers at the State Fairgrounds in Salt Lake City.

The teachers were to discuss at a mass meeting today proposals that included prolonging the walkout and continuing to refuse to sign next year's contracts.

They hope to force the hand of Gov. George D. Clyde and get more school money.

The walkout was triggered by Clyde's refusal to heed the recommendations of his study committee and call a special legislative session to consider an emergency $6-million appropriation for schools.

The success of the teachers' action was being watched in neighboring Idaho and throughout the nation by teachers not content with local conditions. A walkout by 620 union teachers hit East St. Louis, Ill., Monday.

The walkout drew some student support in Salt Lake City, where demonstrators carried signs reading, "Fair play for the UEA" at the State Capitol.

Clyde told the demonstrators, "Every step is going to be taken that can be taken to see you don't lose your opportunities." He was hanged in effigy by other students at a local high school.

John C. Evans Jr., UEA executive secretary and leader of the protest action, called Monday's walkout successful.

The UEA has demanded more money for salaries and school facilities. It says Utah teachers' salaries rank 23rd in the nation. They receive between $4,400 and $7,000 a year, with the average $5,900, it said.

The UEA claims it represents 96 per cent of Utah public school teachers.

Post Cards Urge Lausche Support Of Rights Bill

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Sen. Frank J. Lausche of Ohio should be getting 750 post cards within the next day or so urging him to support the civil rights bill currently being debated in the Senate.

The post cards were mailed Monday after a civil rights rally on Ohio State University's campus.

Besides asking him to vote for the bill, the post cards also urge the Ohio Democrat to reject amendments which would weaken the measure and to vote for cloture which would end a southern-led filibuster against the bill in the Senate.

Some 1,000 persons attended the 1 1/2-hour rally, which was endorsed by 39 campus groups. During the rally the post cards were passed out, along with petitions addressed to Lausche and synopses of the civil rights bill.

When the rally ended, the crowd marched to the campus post office and mailed the post cards.

Pirates End Drysdale's Win Streak With 4-2 Victory

By MIKE RATHET Associated Press Sports Writer The ladies of Houston got 186 runs for Ken Johnson. The Colts got nary a one. Philadelphia's Jim Bunning proved most ungentlemanly to the ladies and the Colts Monday night, ruining a "Runs for Johnson" promotion by allowing Houston only one hit in a 4-0 victory that sent the Phillies back into first place in the National League.

The Colts staged the promotion in an effort to produce runs for Johnson, the no-hit, no-luck knuckleballer who went into the game with a 3-3 record. In the three losing efforts, including a no-hitter, the Colts had managed only two runs for Johnson. The gimmick was simple: All ladies who arrived at the ballpark with runs in their nylons were to be admitted at a reduced rate. Of the 5,284 people on hand, 186 were ladies with matted mesh. The result also was simple: Not only were the Colts unable to get a run, they had difficulty getting men on base. Only two reached first, Nellie Fox when he was hit by a pitch in the first inning and Jim Wynn, who lashed a ground single over third base leading off the fifth inning. Otherwise Bunning was untouchable, bringing his record to 5-1 with his second shutout while Manager Gene Mauch watched from the stands. Mauch had been fined $150 and suspended for two days following a run-in with umpire Lee Weyer in Sunday night's game. Mauch's suspension will last through tonight's game against the Giants at San Francisco. The Giants, beaten by the New York Mets 4-2, are in second place, 10 percentage points behind the Phillies. In the only other NL game scheduled, Steve Blass won his first major league start with a seven-hitter as Pittsburgh ended Don Drysdale's five-game winning streak by defeating the Los Angeles Dodgers 4-2. Detroit edged Washington 7-6 in the only American League game scheduled. Bunning got the only run he needed in the fourth inning when Johnson was touched for singles by Wes Covington, John Herrstein and Bobby Wine.

The Phillies added two runs in the fifth when Richie Allen doubled, John Callison singled and Tony Gonzalez doubled. Gonzalez doubled in another run in the seventh after Allen singled. Johnson struck out nine and allowed nine hits before being replaced in the eighth inning. The Mets had been unable to score against San Francisco pitching for 31 innings and trailing 1-0 in the eighth when Bob Taylor singled, Rod Kanehl beat out an infield hit and George Altman homered. That provided Galen Cisco with the victory and tagged Bob Shaw with the defeat. The Giants used Willie Mays as a defensive replacement in the eighth inning. Mays got to bat only once, flied out and had his average trimmed another four points to .407. Trailing 2-0, the Pirates struck for three runs in the sixth. A double by Dick Schofield and Bill Virdon's single scored the first run off Drysdale in 17 innings. A single by Roberto Clemente and a walk that filled the bases chased Drysdale. With Ron Perranoski pitching, Gene Freese hit a sacrifice fly and Donn Clendenon stroked a single to push the other runs across. The Tigers defeated the Senators despite two homers and four runs batted in by Don Lock. Gates Brown and Norm Cash each collected three RBI for Detroit. Brown doubled home the tying runs in the ninth before Cash doubled home the clincher.

Arnie's Patented Finish Gives Him Oklahoma Victory

By NORMAN ROWLAND Associated Press Writer OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — "When did you know you had it won, Arnie?" someone asked Arnold Palmer. "When he stepped off the plane," Ernie Vossler interjected. Actually, it wasn't that simple for the four-times Masters champion. Palmer trailed Lionel Hebert by three strokes going into the final round of the $40,000 Oklahoma City Open Monday, then put together one of his typically brazen, blistering finishes for a two-stroke triumph. Palmer, boldly going to his driver at every opportunity, whipped over the 7,042-yard Quail Creek Country Club course in a final-round five-under-par 67 for a winning 277, including birdies on the last two holes. "I've been playing pretty well from tee to green," Arnie said. "The difference was in the putting. I was rolling in some of the little ones I haven't been getting lately." He also got a little help from the weather. The tourney start was delayed by two days of rain. On one of those days, Thursday, Palmer had shot a 75 before it was washed off the boards. When the first round was finally played Saturday, he had a 72, added a 69 Sunday and had another 69 on the first 18 holes of Monday's 36-hole windup. It was his first tourney victory since he picked up his fourth Masters title at Augusta, Ga., earlier this year. The $5,000 first-place money increased his winnings for the year to $44,298. Hebert, who shared the half-way lead with George Bayer and was in sole control after 54 holes, blew his lead with bogies on the second and third holes of the final round. Palmer pulled even with a birdie on No. 3 and went ahead to stay with another birdie on the sixth hole. Hebert never caught up, but he, Jack McGowan, South Africa's Bob Verwey and Mike Souchak stayed in contention until Palmer charged home with two closing birdies. Hebert finished with a par 72 for 279 and $3,500 second-place money. Verwey had a closing 70 for 281 and third place, his best PGA tour finish. McGowan, 73, and Souchak, 72, tied for fourth at 282. Dave Marr had a closing 68 for 283 and sixth place. Arnold Palmer $5,800, 72-69-67-277; Lionel Hebert $3,500, 70-68-69-279; Bob Verwey $2,700, 69-71-71-70-281; Jack McGowan $2,150, 69-71-69-73-282; Mike Souchak $2,150, 68-71-71-72-282; Dave Marr $1,800, 72-71-72-68-283; Bob Rossburg $1,700, 70-71-73-70-284; Bruce Devlin $1,400, 77-73-71-69-285; Miller Barber $1,400, 73-74-69-69-285; Jerry Steelsmith $1,400, 72-75-72-66-285; Tony Lema $1,400, 70-72-77-66-285; Johnny Pott $1,400, 69-70-74-72-285

Urich Fans 16 In Irondale's 12-0 League Win

IRONDALE — Veteran right-hander Joe Urich scattered three hits and fanned 16 as Irondale picked up a 12-0 victory over Bergholz in a Tri-County League opener Sunday. Bob Mills had four hits and Crit Smallwood homered to lead Irondale's 15-hit attack. Next game is Wednesday at 6 at home against Jewett.

Outfielder Roger Repoz, who was placed on the Yankee roster this spring, hit 20 home runs for Augusta last season. However, he fanned 166 times while batting .221.

more were injured and had to be destroyed and another died of a heart attack.

The flames, thrown from barn to barn by winds, drove the horses into stampede, their charges scattered firemen trying to douse the flames and their hooves sent up dust in choking clouds to mingle with the smoke.

Grooms, trainers, and stable hands led others of the some 600 horses to safety, including Devil's Advocate, one of the biggest winners at small tracks.

Twelve horse barns and one feed barn were destroyed by the fire, which started in a tack room of one barn. Track general manager Horace Wade estimated damage to barns at $100,000 but said it could go higher. No figure was available on the value of the horses lost. None was believed to be of great value.

Four firemen were overcome by smoke or heat, or burned slightly, in battling the blaze.

At one time about 250 horses ran loose on the grounds. Those that had to be destroyed injured themselves in terrorized lunges against fences and other obstacles. Some animals got out of the track area and onto nearby streets and highways.

'You Can Go Farther With Older Umpires,' Says Suspended Mauch

HOUSTON (AP) — Gene Mauch, the peppery manager of the Philadelphia Phillies, speaks from experience when he says the older umpires "will go a little farther down the line with you."

Mauch currently is sitting out the third suspension of his career following a run-in with one of the younger men in blue, Lee Weyer.

Mauch talked about his latest suspension as he watched from a seat in the reserved section Monday night as the Phillies beat the Houston Colts 4-0 and regained first place in the National League.

League President Warren Giles fined Mauch $150 and suspended him for two days for the picturesque language he allegedly used in an argument with Weyer in Sunday night's game. "I have nothing against Weyer," Mauch said. "But the older umpires know what we've been through on the Phillies. They know we are a young team and we've had to fight to get some place, and they understand it when we're a little impetuous."

Mauch, who watched Jim Bunning pitch a one-hitter in the windup of a four-game series, said he also had been suspended in Milwaukee in 1961 and San Francisco in 1962.

Mauch was ejected Sunday night after he came to the aid of his catcher, Clay Dalrymple, who was arguing with Weyer.

over a ball and strike decision. Both Dalrymple and Mauch were thrown out by Weyer. "I was absolutely unaware of having said what they say I said to Weyer," Mauch insisted.

"I called Jocko (umpire Jocko Conlan) and asked him about it, and he told me: 'I believe you, Gene, that as mad as you sometimes get, you probably don't know what you said.'"

Mauch's suspension ends Wednesday in time for him to be on the bench for the second game of his team's series against second place San Francisco.

A THREE-ALARM fire which swept through the stable area at Miles Park race track at Louisville Monday, destroyed 12 barns and resulted in the death of an undetermined number of thoroughbreds. Loss was estimated at $250,000. (UPI Telephoto)

ADULTS ONLY

It's a big city life. I have committed the most terrible of sins. It would never have happened if I had been wiser at the start. I couldn't wait to get away from Springfield, and now I'd give anything to be able to return — but I can't.
I hope and pray, God, that you will always remember me as I was and not as what I have become.

Mathis Wins Olympic Bout

NEW YORK (AP)—The biggest attraction at the World's Fair drew only about 500 spectators Monday night and it was a pity. For Buster Mathis, a 6-foot-3, 258-pounder with surprising sprightliness, outpointed Dick Pettigrew, a mere 205-pounder but an experienced Navy champion, to advance to the semifinals of the Olympic Boxing Trials.

Buster, a 19-year-old sign painter from Grand Rapids Mich., and the AAU champion, will meet Tyrone Hollins, a 196-pound soldier from Coffeyville, Kan., in the feature of the 20-bout semifinals tonight in the 18,000-seat outdoor Singer Bowl.

The winners of the 10 finals Wednesday night will represent Uncle Sam in the Tokyo Olympics Oct. 10-24. Hollins, a left-hander, upset Al Wilson, the inter-service champion from the Camp Pendleton Marines and McKeesport, Pa., in the other heavyweight bout in the evening.

Despite beautiful, summery weather and the right price—admission is free to all visitors to the Fair once they pay their admission to the grounds—only about 1,000 in all saw the afternoon and night bouts.

Ted Kakas, Syracuse University crew captain, is 6 feet 4 and comes from Southboro, Mass.

Gurney Sets Strategy For Drive In 500

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Dan Gurney, who will drive one of the three Lotus-Fords in the 500-mile Memorial Day auto race, revealed his planned strategy before taking off to practice for the Dutch Grand Prix at Zandvoort next Sunday.

"I intend to drive as hard as I can from the start and hope for a good pit stop," Gurney said Monday. "There can't be any other strategy against this field."

The Costa Mesa, Calif., driver ran second through part of last year's 500 and probably would have finished third behind winner Parnelli Jones and Scot Jimmy Clark except for several bad pit stops. An extra stop to fasten a fuel tank cap dropped him to seventh.

Gurney practiced more than 150 miles Monday at speeds up to 154.2 miles per hour, using gasoline instead of the alcohol blend on which he qualified for the No. 6 starting position at 154.5 m.p.h. The gasoline reportedly reduces speed but gives more miles per gallon.

The winners totaled 2,733 while Trinity U. P. finished with 2,619 and First Methodist 2,377.

Bill Kidder led the winners with a 204 game and 542 series. Bob Hillyard's 216 and 538 topped Trinity and Gordon Brick's 172 and 492 were high for First Methodist.

Golfer Barbara Romack heads the social committee on the Ladies' Professional Golf Association tour.

NCAA To Use TV Income For Scholars

KANSAS CITY (AP) — The National Collegiate Athletic Association said today it will contribute $35,000 from its football television income to establish a program of post-graduate and professional study for outstanding scholar-athletes.

The award plan, first ever undertaken by the NCAA, was approved by the association's executive committee at its San Francisco meeting April 18.

The plan calls for awarding 32 one-year, $1,000 grants to outstanding seniors of 1964-65 from NCAA member colleges who have participated in football and basketball. The extra $3,000 will pay for administrative expenses.

The money will be derived from the NCAA's share of the football television rights fees paid by the National Broadcasting Co. for the 1964 season. A scholarship committee will be appointed to handle the program.

AP, NBC Reach Agreement For Vote Analysis

NEW YORK (AP)—The Associated Press and NBC News entered into an agreement today to provide to Associated Press members "NBC's electronic vote analysis" of elections.

The announcement was made jointly by William R. McAndrew, executive vice president in charge of NBC News, and Wes Gallagher, general manager of The Associated Press.

The National Broadcasting Co.'s service, called "electronic vote analysis," utilizes a bank of RCA 301 and RCA 3301 computers to furnish extensive data explaining and comparing the results in the presidential election—nationally, and by state—and in all gubernatorial and senatorial races. The material will be used by AP in its daily news report to its 8,000 members and subscribers around the world.

The Associated Press will continue its traditional comprehensive vote tabulations of all races in all states separately from NBC's tabulation.

Junior Editors Quiz on SOAP

QUESTION: How does soap carry away the dirt?

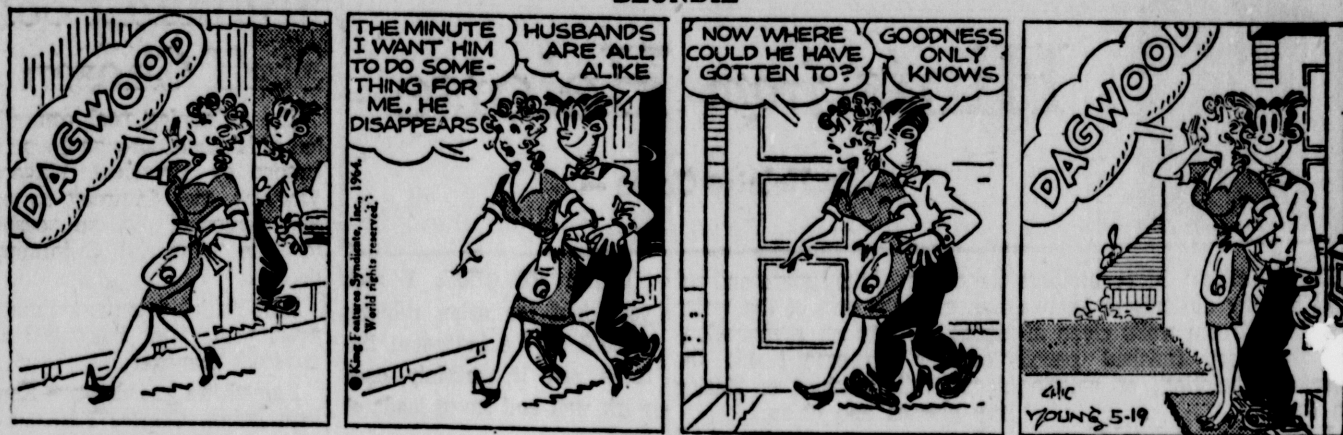

ANSWER: We are all so used to the fact that when you lather yourself with soap and rinse it off, your skin is left fresh and clean, that it doesn't occur to us there is a complicated process back of the action which is not yet entirely understood.

Fats and oils boiled with an alkali produce soap, such as the coarse soap of colonial America, which was made by boiling fats saved from cooking, with lye made from wood ashes. We illustrate the most important ways in which soap works. The water from the tap does not wash away dirt easily, because the water has "surface tension." The surface molecules tend to pull together, as is shown by a needle floating on water, held up by such tension (1). Soap breaks up the tension and lets the water get in to flush away dirt. Picture (2) shows the "emulsifying action"—soap molecules surround only particles and keep them in the water so they can be rinsed away. In (3) the "dispersing action" breaks up dirt particles into smaller ones. Finally, in "solubilization," obstinate dirt not removed in other ways is absorbed into the soap suds and carried off by rinsing (4).

FOR YOU TO DO: Try making a piece of soap sculpture by carving a soap cake with a knife.

Daniel Stolarz of Hammond, Ind., wins today's combined prize of Compton's Illustrated Science Dictionary plus $10 cash, for this question. Mail yours on a postcard to Junior Editors in care of The Review, and you may win the weekly grand prize of Compton's Pictured Encyclopedia.

Today In History

By The Associated Press

Today is Tuesday, May 19th, the 140th day of 1964. There are 226 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1921, Congress passed an act limiting immigration to this country, the first step restricting one of the greatest migrations in history. It limited immigration to three per cent of nationalities already here as shown by the 1910 census.

On this date

In 1802, Napoleon Bonaparte created the French Legion of Honor.

In 1942, President Roosevelt conferred the medal of honor upon Lt. Gen. James Doolittle for leading the first aerial attack on Tokyo.

In 1943, Prime Minister Winston Churchill addressed a joint session of the U.S. Congress.

In 1944, American Fortresses make Washington any uglier."

and Liberators bombed Berlin.

In 1945, American planes made a bombing run on Tokyo.

Ten years ago . . . Defense Mobilization Director Arthur Fleming reported the United States had stockpiled more than four billion dollars worth of strategic and critical materials.

Five years ago . . . The Senate Commerce Committee recommended the confirmation of Lewis L. Strauss as secretary of commerce after lengthy hearings produced considerable opposition.

One year ago . . . Air Force Maj. Leory Gordon Cooper received a tumultuous welcome at Cape Canaveral, the blast-off point of his epochal space flight.

In World War II, when President Franklin Roosevelt ordered temporary buildings erected, he reportedly told the builder, "I want you to design these so they will fall down after seven years. I don't want this war to make Washington any uglier."

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruze —

Dear Heloise: Most mothers find it very difficult to keep a child's bedroom walls clean after they get finished pencil marking, painting, or coloring on them.

I found an ideal solution: The last time I painted the bedroom of my smallest child, I painted the lower half of the wall (up to the top of the light switches) with semi-gloss enamel. The top half of the wall I painted in a matching flat wall paint.

Now the part of the wall which gets the most marking and finger-printing washes very easily, and I haven't found anything yet which won't wash off. It surely is a time and wall saver.

J.D.

DEAR HELOISE: When icing an angel food cake or any kind of sponge cake with soft fluffy icing, it is best to cut the cake before icing it!

The icing does not stick to the knife and is much easier to cut. And the icing will hold the cake together.

BERTHA F.

DEAR HELOISE: Recently, I cracked another glass on the sink water spout while washing dishes. Such accidents seem to come in bunches for me! This time I decided to try to do something about it.

I cut a small square from an old sponge, then cut a hole in the center of the square and put this over the end of the water spout. It acts as a marvelous "bumper" in case I hit the spout while washing or rinsing my glasses and china.

The sponge can be slipped off easily between dishwashings, if so desired. Sure saves my crystal from being chipped.

M. W. F.

DEAR HELOISE: I have a hint that won't be needed too often . . . I hope!

About three weeks ago I broke my ankle, so am in a cast up to my knee. As you know, said cast must be kept dry (meaning no showers — only "bird baths").

A neighbor suggested that I put my foot in a large plastic bag and fasten the bag securely above the cast. A heavy rubber band did the trick for me.

Now I can shower and still keep my cast dry.

ILDA HENLEY.

This could also be used for those with broken arms. Real tricky. And I do hope your foot is better.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: I always had trouble keeping my earrings together in my jewelry box. Now I use a plastic ice cube tray.

No more searching for the missing one.

K. H. T.

DEAR HELOISE: I took your hint for using rubbing alcohol on the bathroom fixtures and it certainly does work well and saves loads of time.

One day I was vigorously scrubbing my stainless steel breadbox and canister set and thinking "There ought to be a better way" . . . and there sat the alcohol. Wow!

In five minutes I had every bit of stainless steel (and chrome, too) in the whole house absolutely sparkling.

JACKIE ARNOLD.

DEAR HELOISE: A cardboard or wooden box, such as fruit comes packed in, makes a wonderful sick-in-bed table for a child.

If it is cardboard, cut the two long sides out with a knife. If wooden, use a hammer to remove the sides. This will leave you with a perfect bed tray. It is steadier than most trays and makes a fine table for coloring and cutting.

PAT.

DEAR HELOISE: When you wash your chenille bedspread . . . hang the chenille sides together. As the wind dries them and rub them together they will look like new again.

The friction fluffs the chenille.

BUTTERCUP.

BATAVIA, Ohio (AP)—A 17-year-old farm youth was crushed to death when his tractor overturned Monday on the family farm near here. The victim was Kenneth Seibert son of Mr. and Mrs. Homer Seibert.

Bringing Up A Family

By DR. GARRY MYERS

Moving Creates Problem For All

When the family must move, the ordeal may be greater for the children than for the parents. While it usually is easier for tots from three to six than for older children, even these younger ones may dread to leave their favorite playmates and play places. As a rule, the more self-reliant children of any age are, and the more freely they have mingled with other children of their ages, the more readily they can feel at home in new surroundings.

As far as reasonably possible, the children, especially the younger ones, should be allowed to take with them their most cherished possessions, however valueless the parents think these things are. All the children should have an opportunity to say goodbye to their closest friends, and be encouraged to keep in touch with them.

PHOTOGRAPHS OF the new home-to-be, of some other places near it and of some children living close by, as well as any other advance information could help make the move easier on the children.

On arriving at the new home, parents naturally are eager to put their household furniture in place and to get acquainted with some of the adult neighbors; the father's new place of work may absorb much of his immediate attention.

The needs the children have of getting acquainted in the neighborhood and finding new friends may not get sufficient attention from the parents.

Parents must take time to welcome and attract some children to the home and to study and guide their own children as they mingle with new friends.

The older children should not have to wait till everything in the new home is ship-shape before inviting new friends in.

The parents need to try then to be relaxed enough to make these new friends feel welcome.

THE NEW SCHOOL may present difficulties, especially to the child in elementary grades. The books, the lessons to be learned, the ways of learning them—all may be very different. And of course all the children will feel strange among their new classmates.

If the family has moved, you need to try harder at home to provide your school children with a relaxed cheerful home atmosphere.

Having comfortable relations with you, your children may be ready to tell you how they are getting along at school, especially if they are having any unhappy experiences or difficulties with their lessons.

If any child lags in one or more subjects you should strive hard to help him or to employ an able outsider to help him.

My bulletins, "Helping Your Child Succeed at School," "Your Child and His Playmates," and "Home Helps in Reading, Spelling, Arithmetic and Handwriting," may be secured by sending a self-addressed, stamped envelope to me in care of The Review.

Keep In Trim

By IDA JEAN KAIN

Teen-Agers Need Height-Building Nutrition

A teenager writes: "I need help and fast! I am 15, an even five feet, and I weigh 121 pounds. It took me three years to grow a quarter-inch!"

"I didn't used to be this fat, not until after school started. I'm getting worried about my waist, hips and thighs. . . . Ida Jean Kain waist 28½, hips 38, thighs 38. My mother doesn't think I am too big, so she won't help me. Right now my sister and I are doing some of your exercises, but we can't seem to stick to them or to a diet either. What should we do?"

At age 15 you still have time—but only just barely time—to take advantage of the growth spurt impulse of adolescence. Don't delay a day. Build your meals around the "growing-taller" nutrients. Leave off the "growing-wider" foods.

IN CHARTING the changing map of growth, Dr. Helen S. Mitchell, a nutrition scientist, emphasizes the need for high value protein during the adolescent years. This authority points out that a protein limitation of such a mild degree that no clinical symptoms of deficiency are obvious may still be sufficient to affect the growth of cartilage cells in the bone matrix, which are essential for the formation of new bone.

As the hard core of your meals, make protein the backbone of the menus. . . all three meals. Also have grade A nutrition from the standpoint of all the protective nutrients. Any time you stimulate a body to grow, the body must have a well-balanced diet.

What foods furnish the needed nutrients? Milk, meat, chicken, fish, fruits and vegetables, whole grain cereals and bread. In the growing years a vitamin A and D supplement is needed. Assorted carbohydrates, sweets, soft drinks and foods of this sort will not help you to grow taller. . . only wider.

TO SHOW YOU the growing power in good nutrition: A young Canadian wrote that at age 15 he was just 5' 3" tall and the girls called him "Shorty." His mother was 5' even, and his father was 5' 3", so he felt he was doomed. At that time he read about the importance of good nutrition and exercise for normal growth that appeared in this column. He enthusiastically adopted the program and four years later reported that he had reached the height of 5' 10".

Talk this over with your parents. Perhaps they will decide that you should seek the help of a physician. For you it would be advisable to choose an endocrinologist. Certain hormones stimulate growth, but the materials for growth must be present, too.

If you food habits are letting you down, the greatest favor you and your sister could do for yourselves is to go all out for "growing-taller" nutrition. And don't skip exercise either. It's the pulling of the big muscles on the bones that helps them to grow.

Send stamped, self-addressed, long envelope for Teenage Slimming Challenge. Address request to Ida Jean Kain, care of The Review. Post card requests cannot be answered.

Former District Pastor Named In Post In Florida

The Rev. Archie Mackey, former minister of the Wells-ville First Christian Church and now pastor of the North Dade Christian Church at Miami, was elected president of the Florida Convention of Christian Churches for 1965 when the group ended its annual meeting Saturday night in Ocala.

Minister of the North Dade Church since 1961, he replaces Dr. J. Wayne Drash of St. Petersburg. Rev. Mackey went to Florida from Hammond, Ind., where he had been minister of the First Christian Church for 10 years. He also has held pastorates in Mt. Hope, McAlpin and McMechen in West Virginia and at Shadyside in Ohio.

For several years he was a member of the field staff for Unified Promotion, the "community chest" for Christian Churches' education, missionary and benevolent agencies.

He is a graduate of Lynchburg College in Virginia, and his graduate studies were at the University of Chicago and Butler School of Religion in Indiana. He was ordained to the Christian ministry at the West Virginia Convention of Christian Churches in 1937.

His son, the Rev. J. W. Mackey, recently became minister of the Christian Church at Naples, Fla. A daughter, Mrs. David Linvill, resides at Highland, Ind.
